Parolee-Killer of Farm Wife Seized; Confesses

$307,000 BANK THIEF CAUGHT; ALL LOOT SPENT

Blames Betting on Race Horses.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

A nervous, unshaven young man smoked cigaret after cigaret in the police lockup last night and tried to remember what happened to the $307,000 he admitted having stolen in the last eight years from a Lancaster, Pa., bank where he was chief bookkeeper.

At least $250,000, he said, was lost to Lancaster bookies and on Maryland's tracks, and another $30,000 melted away in a night club venture. All that is left, he said, is a $4,800 house, not yet paid for; his 38 acre farm, 20 miles south of Lancaster, for which he paid $3,000; his wrist watch and $50.

Flees as Examiners Arrive.

The prisoner, William D. Sahm, 32 years old, fled Lancaster six weeks ago when federal bank examiners arrived unexpectedly at the Northern Bank and Trust company where he had worked for 15 years. For the first time, he said, he had failed to doctor his books to conceal his peculations. So when the examiners appeared Sahm explained that he had a headache, went home, packed and left town in his expensive 1940 sedan. He abandoned the car about 40 miles out of Lancaster. In his pocket he had $200.

There was no plan to his flight—he hitch hiked to Baltimore and then to Washington, hopped a bus for Winston-Salem, N. C., went from there to Memphis, and arrived in Chicago three weeks ago. He worked as a hat salesman, part time, in a store at Clark and Monroe streets, and lived in an $8 a week room in the Milner hotel, 536 Rush street.

Asks Bookie to Wire $300.

The clerking job ended last week and yesterday Sahm was short of funds. So he telephoned Edward Mellinger in Lancaster and asked him to wire $300. Mellinger, Sahm said, is a bookie to whom he has lost at least $50,000. Mellinger wired $100, Sahm said. When he asked the telegraph company for the money he was arrested by Sergt. John Murphy of the detective bureau. Sahm paid his hotel bill, spent $14.50 getting his watch and suitcase out of pawn, and went to headquarters.

He made no attempt to hide his identity, and readily admitted his thefts. He said he thought he had taken no more than $260,000, but that "the bank ought to know." He said he would not fight extradition and would plead guilty on his return to Lancaster, the town of his birth.

First Theft Is $100.

Sahm said he went into the bank after graduating from high school, where he had taken a commercial course. His first job was that of a clerk, handling foreign mail, and his first salary he remembered as either $12.50 or $15 weekly. Within six months, he said, he was made bookkeeper. Eventually he became head bookkeeper at $105 a month.

Eight years ago he was married and at the same time the bank was

THE MEMORY LINGERS ON

President Roosevelt, on Oct. 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act, said:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

Richard Martin Wesolik, 16 years old, parolee killer from the Illinois Training School for Boys, four miles from St. Charles, was captured by Belleville [St. Clair county] police last night near the homes of two brothers, Paul and Frank Wesolik.

Wesolik confessed to Chief of Police Eugene LePere of Belleville that he killed Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37 years old, on the Jung farm near Woodstock on Monday. He had been paroled to Mrs. Jung's husband, Joseph, on April 21. Wesolik disappeared after the slaying, and had since been sought by police thruout the state. When captured, he was accompanied by his brother, Frank, and said he was on his way to give himself up. LePere said the relatives had coöperated with police.

Slain in Milk House.

Mrs. Jung, the mother of five children, was struck down as she worked in the farm milk house. Her skull was fractured in two places by blows from a wrench. The body was discovered by Jung a few minutes later when he returned from a trip to Woodstock.

A trivial incident led to the slaying, Wesolik confessed, admitting that he killed Mrs. Jung in a moment of senseless rage by striking her 15 times with the heavy wrench. A part of his signed confession to Chief LePere follows:

"The trouble started Sunday evening when Mr. Jung asked me to go with the family to the home of a relative. I told him I would rather stay home and go to bed. Instead, I went to a movie in Woodstock. I left the show about 10:15 p. m. Knowing I had to be home at 9 p. m., according to my parole, I tried to sleep in the barn until 2:30 a. m., when I knocked and Mr. Jung let me in.

Reproved for Tardiness.

"Before taking the cows to the pasture the next morning, after Mr. Jung had gone to Woodstock, I went in the milk house. Mrs. Jung was there, and she said, 'Well, Richard, I guess you will go back to St. Charles when the parole officer gets here. You are just like Bob. You are no good at all.'

"This made me so mad that I went to the garage and got an iron wrench about 12 inches long, which I put in my pocket. I walked back into the milk house with the intention of striking Mrs. Jung. When I started to take the wrench out of my pocket it stuck. Mrs. Jung turned and, noticing this, she screamed.

"I then struck her on the top of her head. She slumped forward into the tank, where she was washing the milk cans. She was still moaning and I struck her about 15 times. She then fell on the floor and stopped moaning. I ran to the house and changed my clothes, carrying the wrench with me."

Cuts Weeds for Lodging.

Wesolik said he hitch-hiked to Le Salle county, where he spent Monday night on Charles Becker's farm near Rutland. He paid for his night's lodging by cutting weeds on the farm the next day, and received a change of clothes from Becker. He told Becker his name was "Willard Ettling."

Continuing to hitch hike south, he slept in a haystack in Posey, Clinton county, Tuesday night, and arrived in Belleville yesterday morning. He slept all day in a cemetery, he said, and went to Frank Wesolik's home last night. In midevening an anonymous telephone call was received by police informing them that Wesolik was in Belleville. The arrest followed.

"Too Many Toughs." at School.

Asked about his treatment at the school, Wesolik said he had no complaint except that "there were too many tough guys there. They made trouble for smaller kids and guards."

The slayer was held in the St. Clair county jail at Belleville for the night. Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry county said he would go to Belleville today to return Wesolik to Woodstock, where a formal murder warrant was issued yesterday.

MORIARITY CASE AT CROSSROADS

'Make-or-Break' Ruling to Be Given Today.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

Judge John A. Sbarbaro in Criminal court is expected to give a decision today which will make or break the state's case against Policeman Daniel Moriarity, who is on trial charged with the murder of Ada Jane [Jennie] Martin. Moriarity shot her when he mistook her for her mother, Mrs. Ada Jane Martin, alleged head of the so-called million dollar abortion ring.

Judge Sbarbaro will decide whether the jury of seven men and five women will be permitted to hear the confession which Moriarity made personally to State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney. In the confession Moriarity admitted he killed Ada Jane by mistake. His intention, he said, was to kill her mother, Mrs. Martin, so she could not reveal that he had accepted bribes from her and in turn had corrupted at least four members of Courtney's staff.

The Defense's Stand.

The defense is attempting to keep the confession from the jury on the ground that it was obtained while Moriarity was of unsound mind.

The confession, known as state's exhibit 4, told in detail how Moriarity took the money from Mrs. Martin, gave it to two of Courtney's assistant prosecutors, and attempted to bribe a third.

The document told how Moriarity made his first contact with the abortion ring six years ago when he was sent by Capt. Daniel A. Gilbert, then chief of the uniformed police and now chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, to raid the ring's headquarters. On that occasion, Moriarity said in the confession, he was given $50 for "acting decently." Two years later he met Mrs. Martin again when he was sent to investigate a complaint of a husband who was demanding his money back because his wife changed her mind about an abortion. No arrests were made then, the confession related.

As the trial progressed, more of the details of the confession became

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Tomorrow night's draft lottery will be as colorful and dramatic as official minds are able to devise. It is the hope of officialdom that the show will smother memories of the draft drawing last October when mathematicians found that the numbers were not thorly mixed, with the result that a preponderance of higher numbers was drawn first.

Representative Wadsworth.

This new drawing comes in the midst of a campaign by the administration to lengthen the service of draftees. It will determine the order in which approximately 750,000 young men—the 21 year olds who registered July 1—will be brought into the nation's armed forces.

In contrast to the first drawing, which required more than 17 hours, the drawing tomorrow night is not expected to take more than two hours.

Knox Will Draw First.

Prominent pro-war administration officials will participate. Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, vociferous advocate of intervention, will draw the first number. He will be followed by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

Other numbers will be drawn by high army, navy, and marine officers and various members of congress, including Representative James W. Wadsworth [R., N. Y.], co-sponsor of the draft law.

It also has been announced that 50 draftees from six nearby army camps will be brought here to take part. All will be men who have risen to noncommissioned ratings since they were inducted into the army. A special reception committee has prepared a round of entertainment for these men while they are in the capital.

Historic Bowl to Be Used.

The historic goldfish bowl, used in the World war draft and last October, again will be the receptacle from which the drawings will be made. It has been on exhibition in Independence hall at Philadelphia, Pa. It will be conveyed here by police of three states and kept under constant guard at selective service headquarters until removed to the vast war department auditorium, the gilt and chrome chamber where the drawings will take place.

REGISTRANTS ATTENTION!

Turn to page 6 for a table showing the number of October draft registrants, July 1st registrants, and the ratio between the two groups in all Cook county draft boards. Adjoining the table is an explanation of how registrants, by using the table, may learn Friday morning where they stand in their draft board lists.

The blindfold used in the 1917 lottery and last year also will be used again. It was fashioned from a cover of a chair used by signers of the Declaration of Independence. Another article used in both previous drawings and now to be used a third time is the wooden ladle for stirring the capsules containing the numbers. It was hewn from an oak beam in Independence hall.

Meanwhile the 800 capsules in which the numbers were inserted by selective services employés earlier in the week have been kept under 24 hour guard at the treasury department after being taken there in an armored car accompanied by a trailer with machine guns.

Numbers to Be Filmed.

As each number is drawn it will be photographed and the announcer's voice will be recorded on a sound track. The number will be listed on a master sheet, copies of which will be sent to each local draft board.

Every 21 year old who registered on July 1 has been given a serial number ranging from 1 to 661, which is the highest total of registrants reported by any one board so far. The order in which these numbers are drawn in the lottery will determine the order in which the young men will be called up for service.

The new order numbers will be integrated proportionately among those remaining in each board area from the original 1940 listing. It is believed that few if any of the new registrants will be called until September because of the time required for preliminaries.

Claim Troops Only 110 Miles from Capital

German troops defeated the Russians in a battle 110 miles west of Moscow two days ago and then Hitler's speed troops pushed on toward the soviet capital, the Germans claimed early today.

Other apparent German successes were reported from Berlin, Helsingfors, and to some extent admitted by Moscow. The soviet capital for the first time placed the Nazis in the Smolensk area, 230 miles west of Moscow.

To the south of this German salient, the Russians claimed advances for a Red push moving in the opposite direction. A "chain of counterattacks" has gained 50 miles in four days, it was claimed.

Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, was captured by the Nazis after two weeks of fighting, a Helsingfors dispatch said.

Berlin said German forces were advancing rapidly on Leningrad, Russia's second largest city. Fihnish reports said the Germans already are fighting in the outskirts of the city. A German column was reported 30 miles southeast of Leningrad in an encircling movement, while Finnish forces were closing in on the city from the northwest. Moscow however declared Red troops were holding up the German drive on Leningrad from the south.

In the Ukraine (southwestern Russia) the Germans admitted they were encountering bitter resistance, but declared they were closing in on industrial Kiev.

COMPARES ACTS AND PLEDGES OF F. D. R. AND KNOX

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Comparing the promises of President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox with their performances, Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] declared in a radio address tonight that the great need of this country is "a revival of common honesty."

Senator Tobey, a non-interventionist, cited President Rosevelt's pledges in the presidential campaign last fall to keep the country out of war. He recalled Knox's testimony before the senate naval affairs committee, when he wanted the senate to confirm his nomination, that he would not favor going to war under "any circumstances."

Charges Broken Promises.

"Yet in the face of those assurances, Secretary Knox has, with the consent of the President, declared for immediate warfare by our naval forces, in direct violation of his promises.

"Any interventionist who says that we of America, 130 million strong, with a productive capacity greater than all Europe combined, cannot make our shores impregnable, must admit, by the same reasoning, that we are far from ready to launch ourselves onto the battlefields abroad, with any hope of overcoming the highly mechanized armies of Europe. And yet they would have us do just that.

Quotes Churchill's Book.

"On July 7th Gen. Auchinleck, commander of British forces in the middle east, urged United States manpower as necessary to win the war on Germany's own soil. He was following the advice given many years ago by Winston Churchill in his book, who said, 'Nothing will bring American sympathy along with us so much as American blood shed in the field.'

"Gen. Auchinleck, in a recently published interview said: 'If America adopts a status of active belligerency, she must prepare to wage war on the continent of Europe compared to which our expeditionary force of 1917-'18 was an Elks' picnic.'

"For the administration to launch America into the war, would be an act of reckless and criminal disregard of the interests and lives of the people. The simple truth is that we are far from prepared to go to war."

La Guardia Mission Arrives to Study Britain's Defense

LONDON, July 16.—Fiorello La Guardia, American director of civilian defense, now has his personal representatives abroad. His delegates—a five man special commission to study civil defense problems in Britain—arrived in London tonight after flying from New York.

ROOSEVELT ASKS WIDER POWER TO SEIZE PROPERTY

Offers Substitute for Compromise Bill.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—A dictatorship property seizure bill more sweeping in terminology than a compromise version previously proposed by the war department was sent to the senate military affairs committee today by the White House.

Senator Chandler.

Wayne Coy, an assistant to President Roosevelt, delivered the White House bill to Senator A. B. [Happy] Chandler of Kentucky, who offered it as a substitute for the bill already under consideration by the committee.

The original administration bill, proposed by the war department with President Roosevelt's approval, authorized the President to take over, temporarily or permanently, property of any kind or character, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible. This bill was condemned in congress as dictatorship, bald and unashamed, and the opposition was so overwhelming that Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson brought up a somewhat less revolutionary substitute.

Committee Defers Action

When the military affairs committee met today to consider reporting the Patterson substitute, the members were confronted by the new White House substitute, which they found more like the original dictator bill. The committee deferred action until tomorrow to permit the war department to prepare a new draft incorporating the language proposed by the White House. Modifications were proposed by various senators, and these are to be voted on tomorrow.

The new White House bill, like the original dictator measure, authorizes the President to requisition any property deemed by him to be required for the national defense. The President has publicly expressed opposition to specifying the kinds of property that may be seized, as demanded by members of the military affairs committee.

Two Proposals Compared.

Members of the committee said the White House presumably opposed the Patterson compromise because it specified "any military or naval equipment or munitions, or component parts thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials necessary for manufacture of such equipment or munitions, or any inventions, whether patented or unpatented; processes, plans, designs or rights controling the production of such materials or supplies."

The new White House bill provides: "That, whenever the President, during the present national emergency but not later than June 30, 1943, determines that [1] the use of any property is required for the defense of the United States, [2] all other means of obtaining the use of such property for the defense of the United States upon fair and reasonable terms have been exhausted, and [3] the use of other property having equivalent utility for the defense of the United States cannot be obtained, he is authorized to requisition such property for the defense of the United States upon the payment of fair and just compensation."

Value Left to President.

The President would determine "fair and just" compensation. Any property owner not satisfied with the President's determination could take 50 per cent of it and sue for the remainder of his claim, but in no event could he recover more than the "fair market value" of the property without any allowance for damages.

Senator Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.], complained that the seizure of the machine tools from a manufacturing establishment would destroy the entire enterprise. Yet the owners, he said, could recover only the market value of the machinery seized; nothing would be allowed for the loss of the business.

One important difference between the White House substitute and the original dictator measure is that the new bill requires that all requisitioned property be returned to the owner, not later than Dec. 13, 1943, provided he desires it and pays the fair value thereof.

GERMANS CLAIM BIG ADVANCE IN PUSH ON MOSCOW

Drive from Point 110 Miles West of Capital.

BERLIN, July 17 [Thursday]—(AP).—A German dispatch from the eastern front today said German speed troops cleared a battlefield of Russians at a point only 110 miles west of Moscow two days ago and since then had pushed on eastward.

The account, issued by DNB, the official German news agency, said the Germans successfully completed an engagement with "several thousand" Russians encircled in the forests near Gorodishche.

Altho there are several Russian towns of this name, an authorized spokesman gave assurance that the one near Rzhev on the Riga-to-Moscow railway was the one meant.

The DNB dispatch said German units following the first assault troops made a cleanup of the battlefield and took 500 prisoners, then "quickly followed the advance, which already had pushed rapidly eastward."

Air Force "Raining Blows."

In the air, the German air force is raining heavy blows on the Russians who "no longer are fighting under a unified command," it was asserted here.

Pressing forward after a heavy aerial bombardment of rail lines in the vicinity of Leningrad, German troops were reported by DNB to be advancing rapidly on that second largest Russian city, the old czarist capital.

The Germans pushing northeastward on the Baltic front have made such speedy progress, DNB said, that the Russians had been forced to make a stand in unfavorable positions with "considerable losses" resulting.

The Germans reported running fights were taking place in this region, especially east of Pskov, 175 miles southwest of Leningrad, indicating the Russians hoped that strong rear guard encounters would hold up the Germans long enough for the defenders to dig in along a new line of defense.

Disrupt Miles of Railways.

DNB said the German air force now had disrupted hundreds of miles of Russia's most vital railways, and that "as a result of this destruction large troop units cannot be moved to the rear in orderly fashion" and the Russians cannot form a new line of defense.

The German air force indicated that 148 Russian planes were destroyed on Tuesday, 42 of them in air battles.

The high command declared operations on the Russian front were "proceeding favorably," adding that the Germans had repulsed desperate soviet counterattacks in several places "with bloody losses for the enemy."

While the high command communique again lacked specific details of action, DNB reported there was one clash on the northern flank at Bjelala, 37 miles east of Pskov, and that Russian units were wiped out by German artillery and infantry. Many Russian ammunition cars were exploded, destroying many Red tanks and other vehicles.

"Way to Kiev Is Open."

In the south, where the high command has reported the Germans closing in on industrial Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, the Germans were acknowledged to be encountering bitter resistance.

German press and military commentators agreed that from a military point of view "the way to Kiev is open," but there was no indication as to whether actual occupation would be attempted within a matter of hours or days, and it was acknowledged that the city's defenses were highly effective.

Recurrent reports that Kiev had been occupied again were described by an authorized spokesman as premature.

[The Berlin radio reported soviet troops had been captured between Zhitomir and Berdichev in the Ukraine, 80 miles west of Kiev.]

Seize Bessarabian Capital.

New York, July 16 (AP).—The Rome radio reported tonight that Rumanian troops had captured Chisinau [Kishinev], capital of Bessarabia. Chisinau is west of the Dniester river, the old border of Russia.

REDS CAN FIGHT ON FROM URALS, ENVOY ASSERTS

Tells of Industries Built in the East.

LONDON, July 16 (AP).—A pledge that even if disaster befell in the west the Red armies would retire behind the Ural mountains and fight on from the vast, remote spaces of Asiatic Russia was made today by Russian Ambassador Ivan Maisky.

"For years," he said in an interview, "we planned dispersal of heavy and light industries vital to the war effort to guard against air attack.

"Should Moscow fall, a catastrophe which I do not believe will occur, we will fight on supplied by these factories and growing industries hidden in the Urals."

For example, he said that while the Leningrad industrial section was threatened by the German offensive the area was not in any case vital to soviet war production.

Some air observers here supported him in the contention that Russia has plants which, for practical purposes, simply are beyond effective Nazi reach. For, they recalled, German reports had never claimed the sort of heavy attacks on Russian industries as had been accomplished in the far more accessible British midlands.

During the day it was disclosed that the British military mission to Moscow had reported back that morale was high in the Red air fleet and that its men were holding their own with the Nazis, showing a willingness to take on the best the invaders could send over.

RUSSIA'S ENVOY IS RECEIVED BY BRITAIN'S RULERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 16.—A new role of importance was given the Russian ambassador, Ivan Maisky, when he appeared tonight at a Buckingham palace reception as the representative of an allied power.

The reception, given by King George VI. and Queen Elizabeth, was attended by more than 200 guests, the heads of the allied states and members of their governments. In addition to Maisky, the guests included Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, Prince Bernhard, husband of the Netherlands Princess Juliana; King Haakon and Crown Prince Olaf of Norway; King Peter and Queen Mother Marie of Jugo-Slavia; Eduard Benes, president of the provisional Czecho-Slovakian government, and Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz, president of Poland.

GERMANS SMASH NEARER MOSCOW, RUSSIANS ADMIT

Drive to Smolensk Area Acknowledged.

MOSCOW, July 17 [Thursday] (AP).—Germany's armored troops now have reached the Smolensk area 90 miles east of battle scarred Vitebsk and 230 miles west of Moscow on the road to the soviet capital, the soviet information bureau announced today.

[This was the first time the Russians had mentioned Smolensk and this would appear to be the most serious threat yet to Russian defenses on the central front protecting the capital. Smolensk is an important rail and communications center and has been heavily bombed by Nazi planes. The Germans said they were much farther east of Smolensk.]

At the same time the Russians said a German tank battalion retreating from Rogachev on the Dnieper river to the south had been surrounded and destroyed.

The Germans apparently have been hurled back from the Dnieper 50 miles to the Bobruisk sector where heavy fighting was reported still going on since the counterattack began four days ago.

Resist West of Kiev.

Mention of Pskov, 175 miles southwest of Leningrad, as another important battle area indicated Red troops still were holding up the German drive on Leningrad from the south.

On the southern front Red troops were reported still resisting the Germans at Novograd-Volynski, 130 miles west of the Ukraine capital, Kiev.

It was in this area that the Russians yesterday claimed the counter-attacking Red army had kept German infantry from catching up to support advanced Nazi mechanized units which apparently had swept around Novograd-Volynski in the attempt to reach Kiev.

The soviet communique said the Red air force again bombed the Rumanian oil center of Ploesti, and the Rumanian Danube ports of Sulina and Tulcea.

Successful attacks on German motoried units and Nazi planes on the ground also were reported, the Red airmen particularly concentrating on Nazi troop concentrations gathered to cross Russian rivers.

Torpedo Cruiser Damaged.

BERLIN, July 16 (AP).—A Russian "torpedo cruiser" was heavily damaged yesterday by German speedboats in the eastern Baltic, DNB, the official German news agency, declared today.

Red Warships Shell Riga.

LONDON, July 16 (AP).—Soviet warships have shelled Riga, capital of Latvia, the Reuters [British] news agency reported tonight. The report, picked up in Stockholm from the Moscow radio, also said Russian planes simultaneously bombed the city while German bombers unsuccessfully attacked the Red fleet.

OBSERVE 66TH ANNIVERSARY.

Spring Lake, Mich., July 16 [Special].—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Welch celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary in their trailer home north on the Grand river yesterday. They have been spending their summers in their trailer here for many years.

CLAIM GERMANS SEIZE TALLINN, ESTONIA CAPITAL

Fighting Reported in Leningrad Area.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 16.—After two weeks of fighting, Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, has been captured by the Germans, it was reported here tonight.

These were the German forces which had advanced along the Baltic from Riga, Latvia, to Parnu, Estonia, and then took Haapsalu, the harbor which links the islands of Dagoe and Oesel to Estonia, cutting off the Russian detachments on the islands.

In Outskirts of Leningrad.

On the eastern side of Lake Peipus, the eastern border of Estonia, German troops already are fighting in the outskirts of Leningrad, the second largest city of Russia with a population of 3,200,000. The Germans have occupied Tosno, on the Leningrad-Moscow railroad 30 miles southeast of Leningrad.

There is heavy fighting on the Karelian isthmus where the Finnish armies also are closing in on Leningrad from the northwest.

Mopping Up in Estonia.

Mopping up operations are continuing in Estonia where the remnants of Red army divisions are being exterminated by the Estonian home guards. After the stern treatment which the Estonians received from the soviet GPU [secret police] during the one year occupation of their country, no mercy is being shown the Russians.

In their flight the Russians have abandoned all equipment and their forces have lost all semblance of order.

BRITISH FIND WAY TO ESCAPE THAT SOVIET ANTHEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 16.—A solution was found today in the great "Internationale" controversy. The British Broadcasting corporation decided to quit its practice of playing the national anthems of Britain's war allies before its news broadcasts on Sunday nights.

Alfred Duff Cooper, minister of information, told the house of commons that "the increasing number of national anthems renders it impossible to do full justice to them in the allotted time."

"I have suggested to the BBC that the period in the future should be devoted to the national music of the nations whose people are now fighting with us" [cheers and laughter], he said. "Different nations will be selected each week and perhaps in some cases it may be possible to combine two or three."

ROB RENT COLLECTOR.

Carol Midioz of 2737 Polk street, a rent collector, was robbed of $86 yesterday when two armed bandits accosted him in the garage at the rear of his home.

ROOSEVELT PUTS WAR SHOUTERS IN CHOICE POSTS

Most Key Men Too Old to Fight.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—If a man shouts loudly enough for war, he stands a good chance of getting a cushy job in Washington, it was clearly established today.

The nation's noisiest war mongers have become safely intrenched in comfy swivel chairs within elaborate offices from which they boldly shout for war. The top policy jobs are held mostly by men too old to fight or by wealthy easterners who would favor war to protect their interests.

Topping the list in the plush-lined jobs are Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, 73 years old, and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, 67 years old, who were soldier boys of the gay '90s.

Early Advocate of Convoys.

Both landed their jobs in the Roosevelt cabinet by shouting for intervention in the war to help Britain defeat Hitler. Just before their appointment a little more than a year ago, Stimson had urged compulsory military training and the use of American ships in convoys escorted by naval vessels to ship war supplies to Britain. Knox was equally vociferous in his demands for active aid to Britain and was a member of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, foremost interventionist organization.

However, when Knox was up for confirmation he condemned before the senate naval affairs any governmental aid to Britain that would involve the United States in the war and denounced Stimson's convoy plan as an act of war. But just a few days ago he proclaimed in Boston that the navy should enter a shooting war at once against Hitler.

One of the most recent war shouters called to official position in Washington is Attorney Adlai E. Stevenson, former head of the Chicago chapter of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. He has been appointed legal adviser to Knox.

Bankers Called as Aids.

Both Stimson and Knox have brought in wealthy investment bankers or New York lawyers to aid them in execution of their warlike policies. The undersecretary of navy is James V. Forrestal, 49 years old, New York investment banker, and a native of Duchess county, New York, the President's home county.

Forrestal left the Wall street firm of Dillon, Read & Company to become one of the President's administrative assistants, from where he went to the navy department. During the first World war he was a navy pilot, trained with the Royal Flying Corps in Canada, and was stationed at Washington, Hampton Roads, and other naval stations.

Knox's assistant secretary is Ralph A. Bard, 56 years old, a Chicago investment banker. In the last World war he served as director of military relief for the central division of the American Red Cross.

Patterson a Harvard Man.

As undersecretary of war, Stimson selected Robert P. Patterson, 50 years old, a product of Harvard law school, who left the United States Circuit court bench in New York to come to Washington.

The assistant secretary of war is another Harvard man, John J. McCloy, 46 years old, who practiced law in New York prior to coming to Washington.

To head the civilian defense setup, the President recently appointed Fiorello [Little Flower] La Guardia, mayor of New York City. As civilian defense chief, La Guardia has been shouting for the public to keep cool under imaginary air raids from unseen invaders.

A fellow New York official, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, 39 year old Presidential aspirant, who declares he is not an interventionist but supports some of the Roosevelt foreign policies, has been made head of the United Service Organizations in their drive for recreation facilities for the men in service.

Wendell L. Willkie, 49 years old, hasn't received an administration job, but he often visits the White House to receive "confidential" reports from Mr. Roosevelt on administration plans. Willkie has emerged from these conferences to proclaim the wisdom of further intervention in the war abroad.

At the state department, the war shouters include Secretary of State Cordell Hull, 69 years old, who served in the Spanish-American war.

Another Groton-Harvard Product.

Even more ardent is Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, 48 years old, who during the World war served as secretary of the American embassy in Buenos Aires. He is a Groton-Harvard product, as is the President.

Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle Jr., another interventionist, is 46 years old and a Harvard lawyer.

Another assistant secretary of state, Dean G. Acheson, 48 years old, also is a Harvard lawyer and was brought into the state department because of his support of the Roosevelt foreign policy. Early in the New Deal he quit as undersecretary of the treasury because of disagreement with the administration's fiscal policy.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, who shouts loudest of all for Americans to get over there and fight, served overseas in the World war—with the YMCA. Ickes is 67 years old.

Object to Misuse of Name

70 Yellow Cabs Destroyed as Repair Building Burns

Seventy Yellow cabs housed in a garage leased by the Transportation maintenance corporation at 1138-48 East 47th street were destroyed by fire yesterday. The corporation is the repair and maintenance subsidary of the Chicago Yellow Cab company. Chief Lawrence Owens of the 16th battalion estimated the loss in cabs at $10,000 and damage to the building at $5,000.

Pulaski Road Building Is Ruined by Blaze

Fire for which a 2-11 alarm was sounded last night ruined the one story brick building at 2713 South Pulaski road, housing a branch of the Bell Laundry company and the Regal Supply, Inc. The damage was estimated at $20,000 by Anthony Mullaney, first deputy fire marshal. Origin of the fire was not determined.

PICK NEW ACTING HEAD OF TRAINING SCHOOL FOR BOYS

H. B. Knowles Will Take Charge on Sunday.

William T. Harmon, managing officer of the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, will be succeeded Sunday in that position by Henry B. Knowles, who was named temporary head of the institution yesterday by Rodney H. Brandon, state welfare director. Brandon acted after a conference Tuesday with Gov. Green in which they discussed the murder of Mrs. Margaret Jung by a young parolee of the training school.

Shortly before that conference, two inmates of the school escaped. They were Albert Simon, 15, and Franklin Brice, 16, colored, both of Chicago. Brice surrendered soon after getting away from the school. Simon was captured at the home of a relative in Chicago early yesterday. After scaling the school's supposedly escape-proof fence, he ransacked the home of Mrs. Margaret White, near Mooseheart, stole an automobile and fled.

Object to Notoriety.

Meanwhile, authorities at St. Charles acted yesterday to shield their town from notoriety that has attended with monotonous regularity a long series of outbreaks by inmates and parolees of the training school.

A campaign to disassociate the town and the school in the public mind was started by Dr. I. G. Langum, mayor, and Robert Munn, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

"The school's name was changed two years ago in connection with the investigation conducted there by State Senator T. P. Gunning and his committee," said Mayor Langum. "It is no longer the 'St. Charles School for Boys.'

School 4 Miles Away.

"The repeated scandals are giving the community a black eye. There is no connection, physical or official, between the town and the school. It is four miles out in the country."

Mayor Langum's first move will be a request that the state highway department replace the numerous road markers in the region that designate the institution as the "St. Charles Training School for Boys."

AUTO HITS SIDE OF TRAIN; SCHOOL GIRL, 16, KILLED

Fern Lagerstrom, 16 years old, of 618 South street, Elgin, a high school pupil, was killed last night and her escort, Jack Mayer, also 16, of Bartlett, was injured seriously when an automobile driven by Mayer crashed into the side of an Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railway freight train on the crossing at Spaulding, four miles south of Elgin. The train was not moving.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 505 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 358 were killed in Chicago, where 13,049 were injured in the same period.

Tribune Writer Tells of Trip to Finnish-Soviet War Front

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ON THE FINNISH EASTERN KARELIAN FRONT, July 16.—Finnish troops on this front have advanced for miles beyond the soviet border into eastern Karelia, the Finnish province which Sweden surrendered to Russia in 1721.

Rain has helped douse fires and speed the Finns' advance. In the last two weeks the Finns have had to spend more time fighting forest fires than fighting the Red army, but the Finns also destroyed a number of Russian patrols sent out to fire the forests.

Have to Hew Out Roads.

The soviet patrols usually numbered 40 men, many of them armed with automatic weapons. The Finns rely on their Tommy guns [submachine guns] for clashes at close quarters, but their favorite weapons still are the rifle and the puuko, a knife. Faced by the Finnish frontiersmen, the soviet losses mounted steadily.

There is much evidence on the Finnish side of the frontier of work accomplished by the Finns during their 14 months' armistice with Russia. The Finns steadily prepared for another war of defense.

There are tank traps beside the road with boulders weighing three and four tons perched upon wooden platforms so constructed that a blow upon one prop would tumble the big rock into the road. Stretches of the forest had been cleared and fired. Other points were fortified to hold up an expected second invasion by Russia.

Camp for Future Use.

The camp I visited today will be available as a summer colony for children when the war is over. The comfortable buildings in which Finnish soldiers had lived for a year were left spotlessly clean by the troops when they began their drive into soviet Karelia.

Instead of fighting the defensive war they had expected the Finns are on the offensive against the foe they have fought 157 times in the past 700 years.

On the camp's bulletin board remained posted a number of "orders of the day." The last order deserves a place in military history for its brevity. It reads:

"Now! Boys!"

It was dated the morning of the opening of the Finnish attack.

Today some of the buildings of the camp are used as hospitals. Here the wounded rest after a rough journey back thru the forests from the fighting zones. When they are able an ambulance takes them to the nearest railroad, many miles to the west.

Ambulances Available.

Thanks to the sympathetic world which supported Finland's 1939-1940 winter war against Russia, there is no lack of ambulances. Each one bears its message of cheer and encouragement from the community which sent it. One I saw was the gift of Worcester, Mass. All the American ambulances are engaged in front line duty. The drivers say they stand up best on the Finnish roads and trails.

Twenty-three years ago when the régime of Lenin and Trotzky signed a peace with Finland at Dorpat [Tartu, Estonia], the Russians promised to grant soviet [eastern] Karelia a plebiscite and allow the 130,000 population the right to vote whether they wished to be annexed to Finland. The promise to the Finnish speaking Karelians was broken.

The native population has decreased during the years of soviet rule. Many were exiled to Siberia and others were imprisoned. Despite all efforts at suppression of their language, they continue to speak Finnish.

First Visit to Russia.

Today after waiting for 21 years in the Baltic states for a soviet visa I am entering Russian territory to visit the Finnish front line in eastern Karelia.

In 1920 Ludwick Martens, then the unofficial soviet minister to the United States, invited me to visit Russia. I arrived in Riga, Latvia, in January, 1921, and then was informed by Moscow that I never would receive a visa to enter Russia.

I replied to the soviet foreign commissariat that I would wait. Now I no longer need a soviet visa to enter Russia.

STUDIO RIFLED OF SHOTGUNS.

Thieves yesterday took two shotguns from a photographic studio at 813 West Lake street. They also took a case of whiskey and one of beer, Logan Harbican, the photographer, estimated the guns value at $200.

2 BELGIANS GRAB A PLANE, ESCAPE UNDER NAZI GUNS

Rebuild Old Army Craft and Fly to Britain.

LONDON, July 16 (AP).—Two young Belgian airmen are being hailed as heroes of one of the most daring exploits of the war after their escape to England in an old single motor biplane they reconditioned almost under the guns of German sentries.

Demobilized from the Belgian air force when King Leopold capitulated last year, the airmen spent months seeking a way out of Belgium. Finally they found an obsolete Belgian army training plane stored in a barn. They found it at night by peering thru a keyhole while German army sentries paced their beat 400 yards away.

Working by the light of a shaded flashlight, they took impressions of the lock and made keys. Once inside they found the plane intact except for instruments which had been removed by the Germans.

Make Their Own Instruments.

They found materials and manufactured a few crude instruments.

There was oil in the plane, but the big problem was gasoline. And that was easily solved, according to the younger of the two, who is 24 years old.

"The Germans wanted money and we had money, so we got the gasoline," he said. "They always want money."

Fuel and instruments were hidden in the barn and for 12 nights the flyers worked to prepare the plane for its flight. Sometimes they lay silent in the barn as heavy footfalls of German sentries sounded.

Ready to Go; Fuel Stolen.

When the night for the escape came, they found the lock on the door had been changed. They made new keys and crept into the barn, to find their fuel had been stolen.

They got more, but this time they stole it from the Germans—and discovered it was unsuitable for an airplane motor. So they distilled aircraft gasoline in the barn.

Finally they were ready. They trundled the aircraft out of the barn in the still of the night. As soon as the motor roared to life they took off. They did not take time to warm the motor because they did not want the Germans to get close. The plane just managed to clear the trees which ringed their field.

Wheezing mightily, the ship headed for England. German searchlights probed the skies, but never caught it. The German anti-aircraft batteries did not open fire.

Plane Drops Down Over Sea.

As the fugitives reached the sea, the engine began to cough and the plane lost altitude. The flyers had no lifebelts. Feebly the motor picked up. When they neared England an RAF patrol forced them down, but did not open fire because the two airmen had the Belgian air force insignia on the machine.

Of conditions in Belgium they said "it is very bad. You do not look at little children because it will hurt. They are starving. They have no future. That is why we came to fight the Germans. Now we join the Belgian air force with pleasure."

Japanese Seek a New Premier; British See Tokio in War Soon

Ex-Premier Called

TOKIO, July 17 [Thursday]—(AP).—Emperor Hirohito summoned Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, former premier, to conference today in an attempt to find a successor to Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe, whose government resigned in a body yesterday. There were reports that the army and navy would dominate the new government.

Fumimaro Konoe.

The Konoe cabinet, which allied Japan with Germany and Italy and a few month later entered a neutrality accord with Russia, said its resignation was to premit formation of a government more capable of "coping with the ever-changing world situation."

Yonai Visits Ruler's Villa.

Konoe went to the imperial summer villa at Hayama to present the resignation last night, and Yonai journeyed to Hayama today. Konoe will remain in power until the emperor releases him.

The emperor will return to Tokio late today. Marquis Koichi Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal, has arrived here.

The course Japan will take is obscure, but Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, who directed Japan's present tie-up with the axis and her neutrality accord with Russia, was known to have been the first to agree to the cabinet's resignation.

Tokio's Course a Puzzle.

The Yonai cabinet resigned July 16 last year.

[Tokio dispatches give no clear indication of what direction Japanese imperial policy may take as a result of the change in government, but there has been a rising tide of sentiment in favor of siding with Germany against Russia and an increasing clamor against what is called "the encirclement of Japan" by the United States, Britain, China, and the soviet union. The British-Russian alliance, the strengthening of British, American and Dutch defenses in southeastern Asia and the possibility that United States aid might reach Russia by way of Vladivostok have been viewed with alarm in Japan.]

A conference of former premiers and prominent Japanese was called late today to recommend a new premier. Their sentiment, it was reliably reported, was strong to rename Prince Konoe.

Axis Aid Forecast

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 16.—The impression is growing in informed circles here that Japan soon will enter the war. This possibility was suggested yesterday in The London Times, which has close contact with the foreign office, and today the political correspondent of the Evening Star said Japan seems determined to enter the war on the side of the axis.

"All that remains to be decided," he added, "is when and how the plunge will be taken."

"The Times asserted that a Japanese move was expected, but suggested that the offensive might be directed either against French Indo-China or Russia.

"The Germans have been asking the Japanese government to strike at Russia's back door—at its maritime provinces and Siberia," the Times diplomatic correspondent wrote.

Economic Pressure Grows.

Japanese spokesmen here have expressed great concern over this possibility. It had been noted here that even before Japan signed the recent commercial treaty with Russia she was desperately afraid of economic strangulation which, after the breakdown of the commercial negotiations with the Dutch East Indies, is becoming more acute.

Increasing American participation in the blockade against Japan has increased Japan's need to obtain supplies in the far east which she formerly obtained from the United States.

Southward Move Seen.

Renewed Japanese press attacks against Indo-China, which was accussed of betraying the principles of the "East Asia co-prosperity sphere," are interpreted here as indicating Japanese plans for a move southward against Indo-China and Thailand [Siam] to obtain iron, rubber and other supplies.

[A dispatch from Chungking, China, said movements of Japanese troops in China increased the belief in government circles at Chungking that Japan soon will take aggressive military or political action in the far east.]

U. S. DIPLOMATS SEE WEAKENING OF JAP-AXIS TIES

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Striving to fathom the meaning of Japan's cabinet crisis, some diplomats hazarded the prediction tonight that Tokio's close ties with the axis probably would be weakened.

Whether the resignation of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoe's government increased or lessened the possibility of war in the Pacific was uncertain on the basis of preliminary reports from Tokio.

There was no immediate tendency in diplomatic quarters to hail the cabinet's fall as the death knell of the Rome-Berlin-Tokio pact. With the Russo-German fighting still undecided, it was considered doubtful that Japan was ready to risk an abrupt break with Germany.

Gandhi's Aid Jailed Again for Defying Defense Act

BOMBAY, India, July 16 (AP).—Vinoba Bhave, whom Mohandas Gandhi nominated as the first man to begin the present limited civil disobedience campaign, was sentenced today to one year of imprisonment for defying the defense of India regulations. This was his third sentence. He already had served two terms of three months and six months for the same offense.

CABINET OF CUBA RESIGNS IN FIGHT OVER PATRONAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, July 16.—President Fulgencio Batista tonight was confronted with his first cabinet crisis since he became president last Oct. 10. After a five hour meeting in the presidential palace the 18 ministers submitted their resignations.

Batista said "the attitude taken by the ministers had caused him great surprise," but he accepted their resignations and said new ministers would be appointed tomorrow. Altho no reason was given for the resignations congress repeatedly has voiced disapproval of the ministers' refusal to dismiss public employés en masse to make room for congressmen's protéges. Congress threatened not to pass a single bill recommended by Batista until it was granted the patronage as provided in the preélectoral political pacts among the parties.

The pacts made possible Batista's election over former President Ramon Grau San Martin. Congress yesterday threatened to ask Batista to force the ministers to resign. They resigned before that threat materialized.

CHURCHILL'S 'G-MAN' EXPECTED TO HEAD BRITISH PROPAGANDA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 16.—A new government shakeup seems imminent, Political circles tonight predicted Alfred Duff Cooper would retire from the ministry of information and be succeeded by Brendan Bracken, Prime Minister Winston Churchill's parliamentary private secretary and confidant, who is known as "Churchill's G-man."

Other changes said to be probable are the transfer of W. S. Morrison, postmaster general, to the chairmanship of the assistance board following the retirement of Lord Rushcliffe from that post, and the promotion of Richard A. Butler and Richard Law, now junior ministers at the foreign office and the war office, respectively.

Churchill is understood to favor Bracken's appointment to the ministry of information, possibly as a means of ironing out the difficulties over the status of the ministry.

Bracken is tall, red-haired, and 40. He has been chairman of The Financial News, editor of the Banker, and managing director of the Economist.

STUDIES BRITISH WAR EDUCATION SYSTEM FOR U.S.

Dr. Robert W. Hambrook of Washington, D. C., senior specialist in industrial education, United States office of education, said in Chicago yesterday that he had just completed a four months' assignment in England "looking into anything that concerned education during wartime." He said that his report as a special representative of the commission of education is now being prepared.

"I don't dare say some of the things I am going to recommend," said Dr. Hambrook, "because I was taken into such secret places in England. I believe the study of evacuation of children will be very helpful if we ever have to do that in the New York area."

Dr. Hambrook came to Chicago to establish a training course for teachers who will in turn train airplane service men. Twelve teachers are to be trained at Tilden Technical High school for the remainder of this month, and then will take charge of classes of 10 each at 12 airports in the Chicago area.

FALL OFF PORCH FATAL TO CHILD.

Rubin Hernandez, 19 months old, fell from the third floor rear porch yesterday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Hernandez, 744 South Loomis street. The child died in County hospital.

HEARS NAZIS SEEK PATH TO RUSSIA ACROSS TURKEY

Ankara Says Government Is Evasive on Plea.

ANKARA, Turkey, July 16 (AP).—A German bid for the right to send troops across Turkey into the Russian Caucasus was reported today as a large item in military, diplomatic and economic stresses pulling this country into a new tug-of-war between Germany and Great Britain.

The German ambassador, Franz von Papen, was reported to have sounded out Turkey on the transport of troops and supplies contingent on a decisive German victory over Russia by September.

Turks Dodge Issue.

Turkish officials were said to have replied that such a question was premature.

In addition to the transport request, the Germans were reported to be striving to double their trade with Turkey, offering to sell armaments, among other things, and to be seeking at premium prices the important Turkish chrome ore that now goes to Britain.

Countering these efforts, the British were said to be plugging loopholes in their contract to take all Turkish chrome ore production.

It was reliably reported that Britain's contract for the entire output of chrome ore would be renewed with the consent of the Ankara government despite heavy bidding by Germany.

Germans Aim at Baku.

Ambassador von Papen recalled deliveries in the last four years of German armaments to Iran [Persia], by way of Turkey, as a precedent. He is reported to have told Ankara officials that Germany wanted to send troops and supplies across Anatolia to German forces expected to reach the Russian oil fields of Baku within two months.

[Such a route for German troops and supplies would have to traverse all of European and Asiatic Turkey, a distance of more than 900 miles.]

The German army command was reported eager to get a firm foothold on the isthmus between the Black and Caspian seas before British forces could prepare for a possible thrust up from Iraq [Mesopotamia].

BRITISH BOMBERS RAID ROTTERDAM; HIT 'MANY SHIPS'

LONDON, July 16 (AP). — British bombers scored hits on a 15,000 ton vessel and "a number of others between 2,000 and 10,000 tons" in a low level raid on Rotterdam harbor today, the air ministry announced tonight. However, London acknowledged loss of four planes to growing swarms of German fighters believed to have been shifted from Russia to defend the homeland against the increasing British day and night assaults.

The Rotterdam raid followed an overnight assault on the industrial Ruhr valley. While enjoying a day free from German air raids, British sources announced more than 2,000 tons of bombs have been dropped on the Ruhr between June 16 and July 10. One thousand tons were dropped on Cologne and more than 500 tons on Bremen in the same period.

[Germany said British raiders on Wednesday were dispersed before they could do extensive damage. Only two British planes were claimed shot down. Berlin reported German planes damaged harbor installations in a raid on Margate, England, Tuesday night.]

$1,900 IN CIGARETS STOLEN.

Samuel Grossman, owner of the Chicago Tobacco company at 419 South Halsted street, reported to police yesterday that burglars had stolen $1,200 worth of cigarets from his storeroom.

EDITOR IN BRITAIN PLACED ON TRIAL OVER 'AID TO FOE'

LONDON, July 16 (AP).—Edwin Colston Shepherd, editor of Aeroplane, Britain's leading nonofficial authority on military aviation, went on secret trial today on a charge of publishing "information which might directly or indirectly be useful to the enemy." A representative of the magazine said the case was based on an advertisment and had nothing to do with editorial matter. After some evidence had been heard the case was adjourned one week.

The magazine hinted last July 3 that the RAF's day and night poundings of the French coast may be forerunners of an invasion of the continent before Aug. 1.

The Germans have been persuaded that "no combined offensive by British arms can be undertaken for several months," it said. "The RAF has been busy for nearly three weeks casting doubts on that assumption. Before this month is out there may be developments which would cause more doubts and hearten all the people over whose lands the struggle must be renewed."

WATCHMAN SLUGGED AND BOUND.

Three men slugged and bound a watchman early yesterday in the office of the Universal Battery company, 3410 La Salle street. The watchman, Charles Mayer, 65 years old, 6129 Bishop street, freed himself and called police after the men had gone. They obtained little loot.

NAVY TRANSPORT SAILS, CARRYING 464 AXIS AGENTS

New York, July 16 (AP).—The navy transport West Point was on the high seas tonight, bound for Lisbon with 464 German and Italian nationals, banished by the United States government and ordered to return to their warring homelands.

Despite the safe conduct guaranteed by the British government, the ship is armed with four 5 inch guns and anti-aircraft guns for the trip thru war perilous waters.

Since dusk yesterday, when the West Point moved away from the pier and anchored in upper New York bay, the axis consuls, their families and other agents of the two nations marked time while federal agents made final checks of baggage and personnel.

It was learned from an authoritative shipping source that 25 Germans and 25 Italians who were expected to sail were not aboard when the West Point weighed anchor. Most of them had obtained stay permits from the state department.

Shipping men said the voyage cost the axis governments about $120,000, including a $5 steward tip for each adult and $2.50 for each child on board.

U. S. OFFICER MISSING WITH BRITISH BOMBER, WASHINGTON REVEALS

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—The navy today reported Lieut. Eugene Edward Davis, 34 years old, assistant naval attaché in London, had been missing since May 23, when he started a flight as observer on a long range British bomber from Gibraltar to England.

Officials said Davis was engaged in an "authorized nonoperational flight."

Flyer Killed in Puerto Rico.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, July 16 (AP).—Lieut. Robert Snider of the United States army air corps, was killed today when his pursuit plane crashed near Benedict field, St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

U. S. MARINES DRINK LONDON TOASTS TO KING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 16.—United States marines sent here to guard the American embassy were cheered today when they attended as guests of honor a national defense luncheon at which First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander spoke.

They sat at a round table with royal marines and men of the royal navy, with whom they drank toasts to King George VI. and President Roosevelt. At the top table were admirals, including the first sea lord, Sir Dudley Pound, and "Harwood of the River Plate"—Rear Admiral Sir Henry Harwood, who commanded British naval forces that fought the German pocket battleship Graf Spee off South America, and caused it to be scuttled.

Alexander reviewed the progress of the war since Aug. 7 last year, saying the British position had immeasurably improved. In enumerating factors contributing to the British victories he mentioned the establishment of an American garrison in Iceland. He declared the battle of the Atlantic was going in favor of the British.

INSIDE TOBRUK: HEAT, DUST, AND ENDLESS RAIDS

Writer Tells of Life Amid Rain of Bombs.

BY GODFREY H. P. ANDERSON.
[British Journalist.]

INSIDE BESIEGED TOBRUK, Libya, July 14 [Delayed].—Here in the most blitzed town in Africa you can almost set your watch by the daily and nightly Stuka [dive bomber] raids.

A thousand tons of bombs have been unloaded on this battered, white walled town and the arid Libyan acres surrounding it, yet Tobruk still is far from tottering.

After more than three months it still is holding out, tho many of its buildings have been crumbled to dust, and masts and funnels of sunken shipping dot the harbor like tombstones in a marine graveyard. The Australians still keep vastly superior numbers of Germans and Italians at bay eight miles from the town. The navy keeps the sea route open to assure supplies.

No Job Boasts Comfort.

There are no comfortable jobs in this blitzed base. Here work which generally is done in a sheltered position well back of the fighting line has to be carried out under front line conditions.

It is estimated that some kind of air raid is in progress over Tobruk almost every hour day and night.

The Britons' "Little Audrey" [a cannon], barks a defiant reply to "Peeping Tom," and work goes on full speed in a town without women, without civilians, without even a drop of beer.

Supply Depot Well Stocked.

Down at the ordnance depot, where they can supply almost anything from an engine for a tank to a new cork for your water bottle, clerks calmly issue some of the 75 tons of stores the navy ran thru the blockade this week.

Cobblers with their mouths full of tacks hammer repairs to 60 more pairs of worn army boots and make new rubber soled shoes for patrol work out of old inner tubes, using the Aussies' felt hats for uppers.

The bakers shove a thousand more loaves into their ovens, the postoffice on "London street" sells more stamps for letters to be sent home, and another issue of the mimeographed newspaper Tobruk Truth, appears for circulation with rations.

A camouflage unit finds there are more ways of disguising things than with paint and improvises materials from captured Italian coffee, condemned tomato sauce, and flour paste. This indicates Tobruk is not short of food.

Old Friends Meet Again.

Along battered streets men meet old comrades back for a rest after service in the line. They have lived within a few yards of one another in their holes in the ground at the front, but many have not met for months.

"Hullo, you old desert rat," cries a man from South Australia to a friend.

Besides Germans and Italians, the "desert rat" has had to fight torrid heat of the Libyan midsummer, which puts a man in a bath of sweat at the slightest physical effort; endure frequent dust storms, in which a yellow coating of sand covers the body from head to foot, coats food, and puts grits between the teeth; experience myriad hungry fleas and mosquitoes, and slake a raging thirst with brackish water.

Yet the only evidence I saw of low morale was among Italian prisoners when bombers roared overhead the Italian wounded in the hospital. Outside, the rest of Tobruk cast a wary eye toward the sky and just carried on.

Export Lines Gets Permit to Fly Atlantic Route

New York, July 16 (AP).—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today sustained an order of July 12, 1940, by the Civil Aeronautics board approving issuance of a temporary certificate of public convenience and necessity to American Export Airlines, Inc., which would authorize the company to operate planes between the United States and Lisbon. Pan-American Airways had asked for a court review of the order and a decree setting it aside.

Facts for the July Draft Registrants

In the following paragraphs and in the adjoining table is information of great interest to the 24,000 youths of Cook county who registered for the draft on July 1.

With this information a Cook county youth who registered then and whose order number will be drawn in the national draft lottery at Washington tonight can ascertain where his number will be on his local board list. To learn this he must follow the procedure outlined here after the results of the Washington lottery are published.

Here are the steps to follow:

1. He should first learn his serial number. This is the number assigned the registrant by his local board. The board lists are posted in the board offices.

Refer to the Table.

2. He should refer to the table accompanying this article, noting first the column of the table headed "New Men." The figures given there are the numbers of new registrants in each board.

3. Next, the registrant should read the list of numbers as drawn in the Washington lottery [it will be printed in final editions of tomorrow's TRIBUNE] and strike from this list every serial number preceding his own which is greater than the number of new men on the list of his local board.

For example, if only 130 men registered with his board, the board has assigned only 130 serial numbers—numbers running consecutively from 1 to 130. If the first three numbers drawn in Washington were 420, 330, and 760, the registrant from the board with 130 numbers would strike off these three numbers which are not applicable to his draft board. The registrant would continue striking these high numbers until he found his own number [say it was 30]. The registrant would then—

Use Washington Lottery List.

4. Using the Washington lottery list from which he has eliminated the "blanks" [numbers higher than the highest in his local board] the registrant should count all the remaining numbers preceding [drawn before] his own. Let us say that the registrant finds his serial number is the fourth drawn in his board. He will then know that the S 4 [the S signifying "supplementary" to distinguish the new registrants] is his designation in the list of July registrants as a result of the Washington lottery.

5. Now let the registrant again refer to the adjoining table. In the last column he will find a figure which is the "ratio" for his local board. If the number is 10, this indicates that in his particular board, one man in 10 is a new registrant, as distinguished from the old, or October registrant. In order to find where his number will appear on the combined list of old and new registrants after the new are "sandwiched in," the registrant should multiply his "S" number by his board's ratio number. Suppose the "S" number is 4 and the ratio number 10. The registrant multiplies 4 by 10 and learns that his number will appear 40th on his board's list. Thus he will be the 40th man called for classification.

The following table shows the number of October draft registrants who have not been classified by their local boards; the number of new or July registrants, whose order numbers will be fixed by a national lottery tonight; and the ratio of new to old registrants. Read the story in the adjoining column.

GERMANS RIDDLE PLANE; AIRMAN FLIES THE PIECES

LONDON, July 16 (AP).—A young Australian pilot flew home from battle today in a bomber almost literally shot out from under him in a raid over German-held territory. His rear gunner was dead and his radio operator was injured, but he landed with elevators shot away, one rudder useless, wings bullet-riddled, gasoline tanks and oil tanks bullet-riddled, fuselage heavily gashed by shells, undercarriage damaged, and radio useless.

The air minstry news service, said the bomber was first caught by German shellfire, which killed the rear gunner and sent the plane into a vertical stall because of damaged controls.

Then came a 7,000 foot spin, during which a German fighter attacked. The bomber this time was riddled with tracer bullets and cannon shell.

The Australian could not rise higher than 7,000 feet and had to fly thru a hail of anti-aircraft fire until he was over the North sea. Upon landing he found one more bit of damage—he had a flat tire.

France Picks Gen. Weygand as Governor of Algeria

VICHY, France, July 16 (AP).—Gen. Maxime Weygand has been named governor general of Algeria in addition to his present post as commander of French troops in North Africa, it was announced officially tonight. He succeeds Admiral Jean Abrial as governor of Algeria.

AXIS VESSEL SUNK BY BRITISH BOMBERS OFF COAST OF LIBYA

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, July 16.—The British royal air force today struck heavy blows at the axis in the Mediterranean area. Bombers demolished an 8,000 ton ship off the coast of Tripolitania, Libya, and damaged another.

British planes yesterday shot down seven German aircraft, while two others crashed near the Suez canal.

On Monday night British bombers raked German occupied air fields at Eleusis and Hassam, Greece, and Herakleion, Crete. It is reported that direct hits on hangars, runways, and other parts of the field at Eleusis produced many fires and explosions. On the same night tons of bombs were dropped on Messina, Sicily, an important Italian base. "Great fires" were reported around the ferry railhead there.

Italians Strike at British.

ROME, July 16 (AP).—Units of the Italian garrison at Uolchefit, northern Ethiopia, attacked encircling British forces on Sunday and Monday and drove them from their positions at several points, the high command said today.

EXPECT BUILDING TO EXCEED SHIP LOSSES IN 1942

Sinking by Axis Now at 4 Million Ton Rate.

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Merchant ship losses reported by the British admiralty for June gave rise to increased confidence among maritime officials today that starting next year the United States would be able to turn out tonnage at a faster rate than Germany can sink it.

The admiralty said yesterday that 79 ships totaling 329,296 tons were lost in June. This included British, allied, and neutral losses. While the British merely reported tons, officials here said they assumed the losses were reported in gross tons.

Maintenance of this level would mean an annual loss of about 4 million gross tons, considerably below estimates of United States production next year. Revising former estimates to include the recently projected $1,246,650,000 construction program, the Maritime commission now expects United States production in 1942 to aggregate 6,642,649 deadweight tons.

NAZIS ARE CURBED

New York, July 16 [Special].—The battle of the Atlantic is looking better for Britain. June's officially announced losses of about 330,000 tons—tho still perhaps incomplete, and tho still at the rate of about 4 million tons a year, are considerably less than in the spring.

The table of ship losses, by months, since the war began, as it has been compiled in this country from British official figures and other sources, follows:

Month—	Gross tons, British, allied, and neutral.
September, 1939	189,903
October	213,722
November	165,540
December	196,861
January, 1940	200,372
February	218,267
March	98,606
April	135,983
May	249,047
June [Dunkirk]	538,527
July	399,062
August	387,119
September	432,017
October	424,077
November	358,661
December	313,610
January, 1941	288,088
February	340,062
March	501,388
April	581,251
May	477,403

Including the June losses, announced yesterday, the total tonnage sunk is now 7 million.

Maintain Contacts When Radio Is Swamped.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Bliss, Tex., July 16.—A dozen light commercial airplanes being tested by the army during the current cavalry maneuvers in the rough desert country northeast of Fort Bliss won praise today from Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commander of the 1st cavalry division and director of the maneuvers.

Gen. Swift said the little planes of the same inexpensive type seen at airports thruout the country, are performing a remarkable service in ferrying officers to and from command posts and in delivering messages.

Prove Value as Messengers.

"The planes are especially valuable when ground radio networks clog with messages," Gen. Swift said. "Commanders then find that they can maintain fine contact with other units simply by using the little airplanes." During the coming phases of the 15 day maneuvers each brigade and division field headquarters will have one of the planes.

Since this first phase began at dawn Monday the planes have performed countless missions. They have astonished army officers by their ability to land in the treacherous desert and have been flown so low that the civilian pilots have dropped messages directly into moving command cars.

Cost Only $2,000 Each.

In the fleet are eight Cubs, two Aeroncas, and two Taylorcraft, all flown fro mtheir eastern factories by civilian pilots. Each sells for about $2,000 with complete two-way radio equipment. The army air corps is using a Vultee O-49 observation plane for the same work. This plane, costing $15,000, has almost the same performance characteristics.

At dawn tomorrow the troop maneuvers get under way. In the first problem the 1st cavalry division, a force of approximately 13,000 men, will be opposed by the 56th cavalry brigade, less than 4,000. The action is taking place in the blazing hot desert in New Mexico.

PICK MORE SITES TO BUILD ARMY TRAINING CAMPS

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—The war department today announced the selection of sites for possible new army camps, to be built if the armed forces are expanded to require new training facilities.

The approved sites, for which no funds are now available and for which congressional authority has not been granted, include:

Bastrop, Tex.; Colorado Springs, Colo.; Corvallis, Ore.; Marysville, Cal.; Morganfield, Ky.; Camp McCoy, Wis. [expansion of an existing reservation]; Paris, Tex.; West Yellowstone, Mont.; Hopkinsville, Ky.; Waco, Tex., and Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

The locations were chosen at this time to permit perfection of building plans by the construction division.

DEMANDS INQUIRY IN U. S. FIRING OF ANTI-RED SAILOR

Mason (R., Ill.) Charges Moscow Rules Shipping.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Reviewing the case of a seaman who was discharged by the war department because he asked for an investigation of communist domination of the National Maritime union, Representative Noah M. Mason [R., Ill.] today challenged Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson to reveal the administration's policy in regard to "Moscow's control of American sailors."

Noah M. Mason

Mason said that Joseph J. Doyle, a member of the crew of the liner Ancon, operated by the war department had been discharged for demanding an inquiry into communist control of the maritime union.

Missing from Ship's Crew.

"When the Ancon puts out to sea tomorrow," he told the house, "Doyle's name will be missing from the list of the ship's crew.

"Why is Doyle jobless today? For the simple reason that as a member in good standing of the National Maritime union, and as a properly accredited delegate to the union's annual convention in Cleveland last week, Doyle asked for an open hearing within the union on the charge of communist control.

"Immediately, the Stalin-Curran machine which dominates the union put Doyle in his place—that is, in the ranks of the unemployed—the place reserved for all those seamen who dare lift their voices against Moscow's stranglehold upon the shipping of the United States."

Ruled by Red Racketeers.

The Dies committee on un-American activities, of which Mason is a member, has been turning up evidence which shows conclusively, he said, that a "vicious and subversive machine of communist racketeers controls the maritime union."

"I put the issue up to the war department today," said Mason. "I asked Secretary [Henry L.] Stimson if it intends to follow the policy of letting Moscow dictate the personnel aboard our ships."

Anti-War Mothers Hold Meeting

Eastern Bank Employe Caught Here.

reorganized and his salary was cut. He took $100 from the bank's till and began playing the horses.

"I can't remember whether some one gave me a good thing or not," he said, "and I can't remember the name of the horse, but I lost. So I just had to keep on going. If I'd ever gotten even I'd have quit. But I never did."

He took more and more money from the bank "$100 here, another $100 there, $500 here." One day, he said, he walked out with $2,500 in his pocket.

Sahm said he covered his thefts by "inventing" accounts—supplying fictitious names and imaginary withdrawals and deposits, and by manipulating the ledger sheets. He kept two sets of books, he said, one of them for the examiners.

Books Doctored to April 20.

"I had to keep records of some sort," he said. "I had to know where I was all the time."

But the bank's books were doctored only thru April 20, he said, so when the federal bank examiners arrived on May 13 he fled.

Sahm said he placed most of his bets by telephone with four or five Lancaster bookies, and named a Harold Shay as a gambler to whom he lost $150,000. He hadn't been in a bookie joint for several years, he said, but used to go to Maryland tracks each week-end thru the racing season.

About two years ago, he said, he was approached by the owner of a Lancaster night club and asked to invest in it. Within the next 20 months, Sahm said, he spent at least $30,000 in redecorating the place and making other improvements.

About two years ago, also, Sahm said he met another woman and began going out with her.

Plan a Lobby

We, the Mothers Mobilize for America, meeting yesterday in the Brevoort hotel, voted to join the Dubuque chapter of the America First committee in organizing a people's lobby in Washington to save the country from war.

"Representatives of patriotic groups who have gone on record against involvement in European affairs will be able to serve with this lobby to represent the 80 per cent of our people who do not want war," said Mrs. Barbara Winthrop, president of We, the Mothers.

The movement was started in Dubuque, said Mrs. Winthrop, after Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] and Archbishop Beckman of Dubuque called for the people to represent themselves at Washington against war.

Mrs. Winthrop said Andran Nordskog of California has been appointed to go to Washington and set up the machinery for the lobby. Groups against war will be asked to send delegates.

SEEK RAPIST OF GIRL.

Maxwell street police last night were searching for a young man about 19 years old who attacked and raped a girl 13 years old after gaining admittance to her home under the pretense that he was ill. The girl was taken to Mother Cabrini hospital for observation.

BRIDGES CALLS OUSTER HEARING LOUSY FRAMEUP

New York, July 16 [Special].—Harry Bridges, alien president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union and California director of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, in a combination press interview and reception today said conduct of the government representatives at his recent deportation hearing in San Francisco was lousy and a frameup.

Bridges added that Germany was a dictatorship and Russia was not; that German-American bund spies had been active a couple of years ago in west coast airplane plants, but the federal bureau of investigation had done nothing about it altho informed of the situation by his union, and that straight trade union tactics, rather than defense considerations, would dictate his union's program in the threatened west coast longshoremen's strike.

Bridges' remarks were made in a town meeting atmosphere in the presence of 40 guests of the citizens' committee for Harry Bridges in which Arthur Garfield Hays of the Civil Liberties union took a hand.

DEWEY'S RAIDERS SEIZE 205 IN QUIZ ON DOCK RACKETS

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 16.—Launching a racketeering investigation in blitzkrieg fashion, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's investigators and detectives today suddenly swooped down on this city's teeming East river docks and picked up 205 longshoremen.

The men were subpenaed for questioning in widespread "kickback" and "shakedown" rackets on the city's waterfront.

Hustled off in chartered buses to the criminal courts building, the burly dock workers were treated to a new wrinkle in the field of prosecution. To the amazement of some and the discomfiture of others, they were shown movies in which they were the principal actors.

These pictures, taken secretly from tenement buildings near the docks, depicted the racketeers extorting money and the victims handing it over. Then the witnesses were unable to persist in denials of any knowledge of the situation.

At the same time it was disclosed for the first time that George Scalise, former racketeering president of the Building Service Employés International union, has been held incommunicado by Dewey's men in the old Bronx county jail for six days. It was believed he was figuring in the waterfront racket inquiry.

Scalise, who was plucked from his cell at Sing Sing penitentiary, where he is serving a sentence of from 10 to 20 years for stealing from his union, revealed his whereabouts thru his attorney, David Stein.

Stein went before Supreme Court Justice Morris Eder with a writ of habeas corpus demanding his client's return to Sing Sing forthwith. The writ is returnable tomorrow.

In his letter to his attorney, Scalise set forth that he was being "framed" by Dewey, that it was being made to appear he was "singing" or confessing his sins and naming his confederates in crime.

According to the district attorney's office, Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's union, and his union are not involved in the current inquiry.

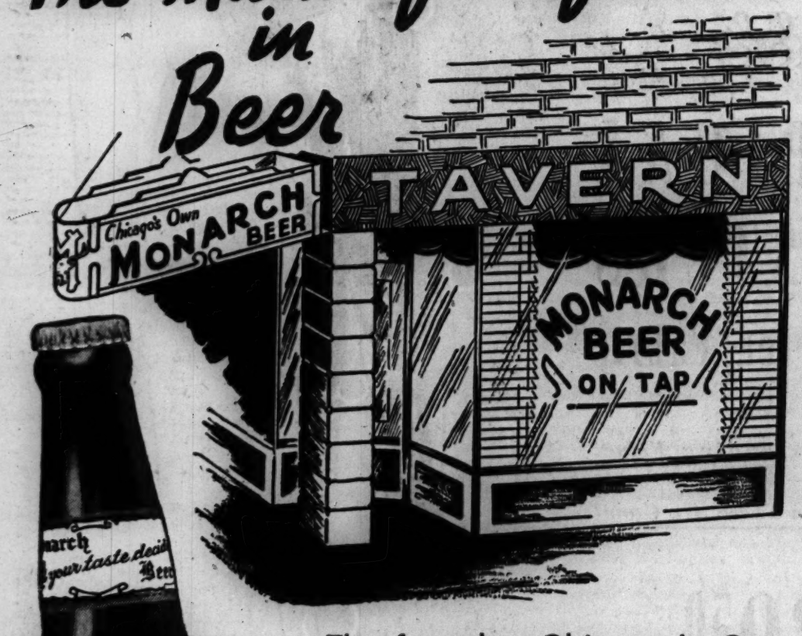
The Mark of Perfection in Beer



The fact that Chicago's Own Monarch Beer is the preferred beer in Metropolitan Chicago is evidence that the perfection in brewing fine grains, which we claim for MONARCH BEER, merits your choice for this truly fine Chicago product.

No city here or abroad can successfully claim a better product.

Preference for anything you drink or eat is generally indicated by the volume of its acceptance within a given territory. No amount of effort can induce people to continue to consume in ever increasing measure a product that they don't like.

And if you will look all over Chicago you'll find that a preponderance of Tavern Owners show their preference as indicated by the above signs . . . a mark of perfection in brewing.

CALDWELL UNION TERROR BARED; COURTNEY ACTS

Official to Be Quizzed; Six Subpenas Issued.

Affairs of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, with some 12,000 members, remained in a chaotic condition yesterday and a group of members whose revolt in early June brought the ousting of Max Caldwell, racketeer business agent, reiterated their determination to form a union free from the feeble rule of the international.

The attorney for this group—mostly employés of the Hillman stores—is Francis Heisler. He said that the members were disappointed by the dictum of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, that they must continue under the international. He described the international leadership as "totally incompetent and inactive."

Some New Developments.

Among the day's developments were:

1. A disclosure that C. C. Coulter, secretary of the clerks' international, was terrorized by Caldwell and his aids in 1940 and was forced to let them operate with Caldwell's father-in-law as nominal representative of the parent organization.

2. State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney announced that an assistant, William Crawford, would visit Coulter's office in Lafayette, Ind., today and seek to get some inkling of the local's financial affairs.

3. Crawford obtained grand jury subpenas for six Caldwell aids, all officers of the local under his régime.

The story of the terrorizing of Coulter came from reliable sources. In substance, it was that Coulter, the head man of the international east of the Pacific coast, came to Chicago in 1940 to investigate charges of wrongdoing by the Caldwell régime.

Met and Threatened.

"He was met by a delegation of Caldwell's strong-arm men and taken to a loop hotel," one informant said. "He was threatened and told to keep his nose out of affairs here; just to accept the international dues and let things stay in Caldwell's hands. Coulter saw the light."

Shortly afterward Coulter appointed Caldwell's father-in-law, Charles F. Wills, advertising and circulation manager of the Federation News, as international representative. The previous year Wills was said to have gone to a convention as a representative of the local and to have been photographed with Caldwell and his brother, Mike Pollack [Caldwell's real name is Pollack]. There is a dispute as to whether they attended the convention as delegates or merely as visitors.

Wills has contended that he gave up the position before it was disclosed that Caldwell was a former bootlegger who had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment in Lake county, Indiana, in 1925. Records to show that he served the term cannot be found. Caldwell testified before the Cook county grand jury that he did serve the time.

Coulter Is Criticized.

Attorney Heisler charged yesterday that Coulter never paid attention to complaints about Caldwell's methods. "Even after the exposé," the attorney said, "Coulter refused to have any conversation with the protesting members. We spent $10 in one day trying to telephone him. He has never had any contact, even by letter, with us since, and has given us no information. It will be too bad if these honest workers are driven out of the AFL because there is no honest leadership."

Coulter, in Lafayette, last night said he had "never been terrorized," but refused further statement. Assistant State's Attorney Crawford said he would take an accountant to Lafayette and try to discover something about the finances of the local, whose books and funds are missing from the office.

Palmyra, Ill., July 16 [Special].—Frank Andrew, the spiral farmer of Macoupin county, is now harvesting his oats in his own inimitable manner. While he sits in the cool shade of his porch, his robot machinery, a tractor and combine, is busy cutting and threshing his grain.

This farmer's utopia is possible with the circular system of farming Andrew devised three years ago. With homemade gadgets valued at about $10, he rigged his tractor so it will plow, plant, cultivate, and harvest without a pilot.

The tractor runs in circles around fields of 30 acres each. Guided by a long wire attached to a pole in the center of the field, the tractor is pulled inward a lap at a time as it winds the wire around the pole. It automatically stops when it reaches the center of the field. Farming is becoming so simple!

WHEELER ASKS IF U. S. PLANES PATROL AZORES

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], called on Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox today to say whether American warplanes are patroling the Atlantic in the vicinity of the Azores.

Wheeler said he had been advised by passengers on trans-Atlantic ships that such patrols are under way.

"If there is such patroling," the senator told reporters, "then Germany must know it and Portugal must know it. It should not be kept from the American people under the guise that it is a military secret, because, as citizens in a democracy, they are entitled to know."

Child Lost at Zoo Turned Over to Juvenile Officers

Edward Bean, director of the Brookfield zoo, yesterday turned over to juvenile authorities a boy about 3 years old who was found wandering about the zoo late Sunday. When found he said his name was Tommy and that he came to the zoo on a truck. He was unable to give his last name or address. On the advice of the Children's Home and Aid society Bean sent Tommy to the Juvenile Detention home, 2240 Roosevelt road.

'L' LINES TO FILE PLEA FOR FARE INCREASE TODAY

The Chicago Rapid Transit company's proposed new rate schedule, boosting the 10 cent "L" fare to 12 cents and increasing by 20 per cent the cost of suburban rides and weekly passes, will be filed today with the Illinois Commerce commission.

The new rates will go into effect Aug. 18 unless they are suspended before then by order of the commerce commission.

The lines served notice that they also will petition the commission for an increase to 13 cents in the present 10 cent fare for "joint" riders. The joint service covers combination rides where passengers transfer between the elevated and surface lines or the elevated and motor coach routes.

On the basis of present traffic the increases sought for the elevated and joint fares would cost Chicago car riders approximately 3 million dollars a year.

How to Improve your Personality

by Dale Carnegie

Dale Carnegie's columns are published in this space, on this day, every week, by the makers of new Old Gold Cigarettes.

What is the biggest single factor in getting ahead in life? Theodore Roosevelt declared it was personality. Your personality will have a tremendous influence on your popularity, your leadership and your income . . . What is personality? How can it be developed?

Volumes could be written on that subject alone. And I have space here for only one suggestion. The famous psychologist, Alfred Adler, in his book, "What Life Should Mean to You," declared: "It is the individual who is not interested in his fellow men who has the greatest difficulties in life and provides the greatest injury to others. It is from among such individuals that all human failures spring."

If you want to have a "poor" personality, be interested only in yourself. If you want to be rebuffed and despised, all you have to do is to see how much you can grab and how little you can give.

Two thousand years ago, a Roman philosopher, Publius Syrus, said: "We are interested in others when they are interested in us."

Why not start using that truth today? Become unselfishly interested in others. That is the secret of winning friends. That is also one of the secrets of a winning personality.

Dale Carnegie

DO THIS: Often people antagonize others as a result of sheer nervous tension. You are keyed up. You need some sort of relief. How can you get it?

Here is one way. See if it works with you.

Take two or three puffs on a new Old Gold. Then, holding the cigarette in your hand, sitting upright but relaxed, slowly and gradually draw in your breath until you have filled your lungs. Then breathe out slowly but completely with an open mouth, with both arms hanging limply at your sides. While breathing in and out, say to yourself: "Relax, relax, relax."

When you have done this deep breathing three times, start smoking your Old Gold again. Something new has been added to Old Golds which gives them an entirely new taste. This is a touch of flavorful Latakia—rare imported tobacco from the Eastern Mediterranean. As the smoke floats upward, watch it and again say to yourself: "Relax, relax, relax."

Let new Old Golds heighten the pleasure of your moments of relaxation. Get some today—in the familiar yellow pack! P. Lorillard Company . . . Established 1760.

What's more, Sudan keeps you fresh all day. Its tightly twisted worsted weave is death on wrinkles. For the "Life of Riley"—from now 'til the first frost—make Bond's Sudan Weave your pal. 'MAKE-OR-BREAK' RULING TODAY IN MORIARITY TRIAL known. The first direct corruption by the abortion ring, the confession said, was when Moriarity paid money to an assistant state's attorney.

Court to Decide if Jury May Hear Confession.

Moriarity mentioned another case involving a prosecutor, but the money in that case was paid direct by a doctor member of the ring. Moriarity asserted that he was told of this by Ada Martin. The bribe, the confession adds, was made in two payments, one of $3,000 and the other of $2,000. The first payment was handed over in the state's attorney's office and the second in a La Salle street saloon across from the city hall. Moriarity was given $200 or $500 for handling the transaction, his confession states.

The next payment, made to another prosecutor, was of $2,500. For this, Moriarity said, he "did not get one penny." Both prosecutors named were fired by Courtney.

Papanek on Stand.

The confession then told of an attempt to bribe Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Papanek. On the witness stand yesterday, Papanek told of that attempt, which he rebuffed. On cross-examination by Defense Attorney James M. Burke, Papanek admitted he did not report the matter to his superiors and therefore was guilty of committing a "criminal and illegal act."

Moriarity's confession further related how he went to the Martin home at 4367 Lake Park avenue on April 29 and killed Ada Jane by mistake. The daughter happened to be sleeping in her mother's room that morning.

When Moriarity went to the home, the confession went on, he had in his pocket $3,000 with which he intended to bribe Papanek. He went to Papanek's home and asked him to accept the $3,000 and "go easy on Mrs. Martin." But the prosecutor refused the bribe, altho he kept it secret.

Hurls Money at Victim.

The confession said Moriarity threw the $3,000 at the daughter, thinking it was the mother, before he started shooting. The roll of bills, he confessed, was minus about $75 which he had borrowed "until pay day."

If the judge excludes the jury from hearing the confession in question and answer form, it is admitted, the case of the prosecution will be ruined inasmuch as Prosecutors Richard Austin and Alexander Napoli told the jury in their opening statements that they will prove the assertions contained in the confession. It is admitted they have no other way of proving them.

The exclusion of the confession would mean, lawyers say, that the case would end in a mistrial and a call for another jury to start it over from the beginning.

Parade of Witnesses.

The session of court yesterday was taken up with the judge hearing testimony on the admissibility of the confession. Defense Attorney Burke was still parading witnesses before the judge when court adjourned. He said he expects to finish this testimony at the morning session, and Judge Sbarbaro said he would give a prompt ruling on the subject.

State's Attorney Courtney told the judge from the witness stand that he had no trouble getting the confession from Moriarity in the Bridewell hospital on May 1. He said that after Capt. Gilbert talked to Moriarity and told him "the boss wanted the truth," Moriarity agreed to talk. Courtney said that Moriarity appeared to be "perfectly sane" when he made the statement. First Assistant Prosecutor Wilbert F. Crowley and Capt. Gilbert, who accompanied Courtney, corroborated his testimony and said they thought Moriarity was sane.

However, Capt. Gilbert, under cross-examination, said that at an earlier questioning at the Chicago hospital Moriarity had complained of "heat waves" from under his bed and said his head was spinning.

Doctor Aids Defense.

The defense also scored when the state put Dr. Bernard P. Conway on the stand to tell of Moriarity being at the Chicago hospital, prior to his removal to the Bridewell. He said that Moriarity's self-inflicted wounds probably had caused a brain concussion. This, he said, would cause an abnormal mental condition and might prevent sane answers to questions for four or five days.

The defense testimony on the subject of Moriarity's condition at the time just preceding his confession came from policemen, jail physicians, and nurses, the latter including Mary Kolerniak and Ruby Moore of Chicago hospitals. Sergts. Thomas R. Casey and Terence J. Donahue of the Hyde Park station said they saw Moriarity at Chicago hospital and that in their opinion he was of unsound mind.

Dr. Andrew Toman of the Bridewell and Dr. Meyer Levy of the county jail said they observed Moriarity and ordered him kept under restraint. However, they did not say he was insane. Dr. Stephen Conway of the Chicago hospital staff said Moriarity was "acting abnormally," and that he ordered the patient removed from Chicago hospital to one better equipped to handle such cases.

Coldwater, Mich., July 16 [Special].—Carl J. Martin, vice president of the Michigan Grain Elevator association, Lansing, former banker and local Elk lodge secretary for many years, died here yesterday. Martin was manager of the Coldwater Cooperative association for 20 years.

BONDING RACKET HAS BEEN ENDED, GREEN AID SAYS

No Favored Brokers, He Declares.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., July 16.—Under the administration of Gov. Dwight Green contractors who do business with the state are not required to give their bonding business to any favored brokerage firm. Under the recent Democratic régime one political firm had a monopoly on the state's bonding business.

This announcement was made today by Gilbert E. Keebler, a comparatively young man who has the politicians guessing. Keebler is administrative auditor for the state—a job referred to as the "son-in-law job" because ever since its creation it has always been held by some one closely connected with the governor. Keebler is an old friend of Gov. Green—and until the governor's election a stranger to politics.

In his capacity as administrative auditor he has the dispensing of some of the most important of the governor's patronage. Keebler was formerly in the real estate business in Chicago as was his father, the late E. F. Keebler.

15 Firms Get State Contract.

"I know there has been a lot of talk about this person and that person getting state bonding business," Keebler declared. "For instance, it is said Phil Collins [chairman of the state tax commission] gets a lot of it. He doesn't get any. He wouldn't take any because he might embarrass the governor if he did.

"As a matter of fact the only business paid for directly by the state is for the bonding of state employés. For this about $7,500 a year is paid out in premiums on which some one gets a commission of 20 per cent."

Keebler then produced a list to show that 15 brokerage firms scattered thruout the state split the fees on this business.

Says Contractors Not Influenced.

As to the bonds which contractors must put up to insure faithful performance of their contracts, the contractors are permitted to give that business to any firm they wish, Keebler said. The contractors are not told to go to any certain brokers, he added. The state architect's records will show it goes to dozens of companies and brokers, according to the governor's administrative auditor.

Keebler produced several cards to show that different companies had furnished the bonds on a dozen or more small building projects in the six months of the Green administration. The state hasn't done much building, he said, and seldom did a contractor get more than one contract—and the bond business was scattered.

"What about road building?" he was asked.

"Ernst Lieberman, highway engineer, is ill at present," the auditor said. "His records should be available. I don't believe there has been more than two or three million dollars of road contracts let so far this year. The premium on this work is, I believe, about 1 per cent and the commission of the broker is 20 per cent of the premium. It goes to many firms and insurance companies."

Rosenfield Backs Claim.

Walter A. Rosenfield, director of the state department of public works and buildings, and the superior of Engineer Lieberman, later corroborated Kleeber's statements. In this he was joined by C. Herrick Hammond, supervising architect, who passes on all contracts for buildings.

Lieberman's state road contracts usually amount to nearly 20 million dollars a year. In former years the state building contracts have exceeded 15 million dollars annually but so far this year they aggregate less than a half million dollars, according to Rosenfield and Hammond.

Discusses Lease Commissions.

"How does it happen that the real estate firm of Hogan & Farwell in Chicago obtained commissions on the state's renewal of leases on the office space it uses there?" Keebler was asked.

"Because they are smart," the auditor explained. "The firm acted on a plan suggested by Charles McKenna, an old time real estate man, and handled details of the renewal of the state leases before they expired."

"What did they do to entitle them to a commission of $1,600 or 8 per cent of the rental of the space in the Burnham building, 160 North La Salle street by the commerce commission?" the governor's representative was asked.

"They handled all the preliminary matters," Keebler stated. "They negotiated about $100,000 of yearly rentals in Chicago—yes I believe at 8 per cent—and I think they saved the state $50,000. In the face of a rising real estate market the state was not required to pay one cent in higher rentals. The real estate firm's fee is paid by the building owner, not by the state."

Expects Fee on Building.

"Will there be a commission paid to some real estate broker on the proposed purchase by the state of a building in Chicago at a cost of 12 million dollars?" was the next question put to Keebler, who is the governor's personal representative on the building authority created for the purpose of acquiring a building in Chicago for the various offices which now cost $500,000 in yearly rentals.

"Yes, I presume a 3 per cent commission will be paid," Auditor Keebler replied, "possibly $360,000."

"The real estate dealer will undoubtedly earn his fee, too. It should be understood that the dealer earns his fee just as much in selling a building to the state as selling it to a private corporation or person."

Get Cancellation Clause.

"One valuable service performed for the state by Hogan & Farwell was including a 60 day cancellation clause in all the Chicago leases," Keebler reported. "If a building is acquired the state offices can be moved into it with little difficulty."

A meeting of the new housing authority was held in the executive mansion Tuesday night. Gov. Green said it was just for the purpose of getting the group organized and that it will be some time before they are ready to negotiate with ony one for any Chicago skyscraper.

REFUSES TO PAY TAX WHILE ROOSEVELT IS SPENDING IT; INDICTED

Minneapolis, Minn., July 16 (AP).—Leslie W. Bailey, described by Victor Anderson, United States attorney, as a business man who had said he would not pay his income tax so long as the Roosevelt administration was in office, surrendered voluntarily today under a federal indictment charging failure to pay an income tax.

Bailey, head of the Bailey Food Merchandising company, and general manager of a midwest chain store system, the C. Thomas Food Stores, appeared voluntarily in federal court, posted $2,500 bond and was ordered to appear July 23 at a special term of court.

Anderson said at various times in correspondence Bailey described himself as being on a tax strike because he objected to the way the Roosevelt administration was spending money.

DEFER ARRESTS OF 29 INDICTED IN REVOLT PLOT

St. Paul, Minn., July 16 (AP).—Federal officials tonight agreed to withhold serving of warrants on 29 alleged members of the Socialist Workers party, indicted yesterday on charges of conspiracy to overthrow the United States government, after attorneys pleaded for time to arrange bail.

Federal Judge Robert C. Bell has fixed bail at $5,000 for each defendant. Victor E. Anderson, United States district attorney, said he has been assured that most of the 29 would surrender in Minneapolis tomorrow afternoon.

The indictment charged the defendants had worked out a pattern for a revolution, which included plans to seize key positions in trade unions and industry, and to foment rebellion of enlisted men in the military and naval forces. All were indicted on two charges—seditious conspiracy and advocacy of overthrowing the government. The total maximum penalties on both charges is 16 years in prison.

4 Year College Record for Teachers O. K.'d.

Springfield, Ill., July 16 [Special].—Gov. Dwight Green today signed into law 65 bills passed at the recent session of the legislature, including the Collins-Garman bill which will require public school teachers to have four years of college training after July 1, 1943. The present law permits teachers with only two years of college education to teach elemeptary grades.

The Collins-Garman act is not retroactive. Present teachers will be permitted to keep and renew their certificates even tho they do not measure up to the new standard.

Higher standards also are set up for high school and junior college teachers. In addition to the four years of college requirement these teachers also must be credited with 16 hours of education courses and five hours of practice teaching.

Bond Issues Approved.

Among the other bills approved today was the Carpentier bill giving Illinois cities from 10,000 to 150,000 population the right to issue 20 year bonds without referendum to pay past due salaries of policemen and firemen under the minimum wage act.

Another bill approved raised benefits to be paid under the workmen's compensation and occupational disease act 10 per cent for deaths occurring either from occupational disease or injury after July 1.

Bookie Bill Up for Action.

The controversial handbook licensing bill reached the governor's desk today. He now has 10 days, Sundays excluded, in which to sign the measure into law, veto it, or allow it to become law without his signature.

Among other bills aproved today were:

SB 184—Authorizes the board of commissioners of a park district to levy a one mill tax for the purpose of planning, establishing, and maintaining recreational programs.

SB 286—Sets up standards for grading cream.

SB 294—Requires all trials for criminal offenses to be by jury except when the defendant pleads guilty or waives the jury.

SB 365—Fixes May 1 instead of June 1 as the time when the first instalment of Cook county real estate taxes are deemed delinquent.

SB 379—Provides that Cook county Criminal court terms shall commence on the first Monday of each month except when such Monday is a holiday, in which case it shall commence the following day.

SB 436—Sets public school teachers pension and retirement fund tax in Chicago at 1.2 mills for 1942 and thereafter.

SB 545—Provides the terms of the Supreme court shall commence on the second Mondays in September, November, January, March, and May.

HB 219—Authorizes park district commissioners to levy a half mill public benefit tax.

HB 221—Increases from 25 to 50 cents the cost of drivers' licenses for persons under 18.

HB 760—Makes it unlawful for owner or possessor of a motor vehicle to knowingly replace broken glass in his car unless it is an approved type of safety glass.

NAME SUCCESSOR TO OUSTED DEAN IN GEORGIA PURGE

Atlanta, Ga., July 16 (AP).—Appointment of Dr. Edwin Pusey as acting dean of the college of education at the University of Georgia, succeeding Dr. Walter D. Cocking, was announced here today.

Chairman Sandy Beaver of the board of regents, who made the announcement, was asked whether this meant that Dr. Cocking, whom the regents voted no to reemploy after a public hearing on charges by Gov. Eugene Talmadge that he favored racial equality, was no longer with the university. Beaver replied: "He can do as he likes, but Pusey begins his duties immediately." Cocking's contract runs until Aug. 31.

Roy H. Gill, superintendent of Brooks county schools, wired Dean Cocking an offer of a position as supervisor of teachers in that county, and Dr. Marvin Pittman, deposed president of Georgia Teachers college at Statesboro, the superintendency of a high school.

MRS. LOIS BURTON WAGNER.

Mrs. Lois Burton Wagner, 23 years old, of 1239 Chase avenue, who once played a child rôle in the Buster Brown comedies of silent films, took action yesterday to jail two former husbands for contempt if they do not make good unpaid awards for child support.

She obtained a writ of ne exeat to keep her first husband, Joseph Burton, whom she divorced in 1935, from leaving the city until hearing on a contempt citation charging him with owing $1,700 for support of a son, Ronald, 5. Her lawyers, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, told Judge Rudolph Desort that Burton left town shortly after being ordered to pay $6 a week, but that Mrs. Wagner had learned that he had recently returned.

Judge Desort also set July 21 for hearing a similar citation accusing Roy Wagner, whom Mrs. Wagner divorced Feb. 6, 1940, with being $40 in arrears on payments for support of a son, Bruce, 2.

U. OF I. SETS UP 4 YEAR COURSE IN PHARMACY

Establishment of a four year course at the University of Illinois college of pharmacy was announced yesterday by Dean Earl R. Serles. The new course supplants a three year course which had to be preceded by one year of general college work.

Dean Earl R. Serles.

Henceforth students may be admitted directly from high schools, but the freshman class this fall will be limited to about 100 students whose applications should be in by Aug. 1. The college is situated at 808 South Wood street in the medical and dental colleges' laboratory buildings.

Dean Serles also announced inclusion of five fields of specialization in the curriculum which will be offered the final two years. They are retail pharmacy, hospital pharmacy, pharmaceutical chemistry, pharmacology, and food and drugs.

The changes announced yesterday are the most sweeping since the college was rearranged in 1932 to provide for the granting of bachelor of science degrees in pharmacy. The college will start its 82d year this fall, having been founded in 1859 as the first school of pharmacy west of the Alleghenies. It was joined to the university in 1896.

UNCLE STRICKEN ON STAND AT HIS TRIAL 'AS SLAYER

Watseka, Ill., July 16 (AP).—Robert Fiester, 55 year old farmer, suffered a heart attack while on the witness stand today in Circuit court, where he is being tried on a charge of slaying his niece, Royalene Hinkle, 26.

Fiester was taken to the Iroquois hospital and placed under guard. Attendants said his condition was serious. He suffered the attack after being on the witness stand for about three hours, and while being cross-examined by State's Attorney A. Fred Kendall of Iroquois county. Authorities said resumption of the trial tomorrow depended on his condition.

In his testimony, Fiester related incidents on the night of March 27, and the next morning when he found the bodies of his niece and her fiancé, Lowell Gray, 25, in his farm home. He told of hearing Gray and his niece arguing, with Gray accusing Miss Hinkle of "running around with other men."

CAVEMAN LOSES BAREFOOT BRIDE, STAYS IN JAIL

Wichita, Kas., July 16 [Special].—Leaving her impetuous bridegroom languishing in jail here, Mrs. Lenora Bales Bowman, 18 years old, returned to her Kansas City home today with the avowed intention of proceeding with an annulment action.

Lynn V. Bowman. [Acme Telephoto.]

She expressed herself unmoved by the spectacular wooing of her red haired husband of two weeks, Lynn V. Bowman, 19, who carried her barefooted from her home yesterday morning and drove the 250 miles here in her father's station wagon.

A search for the newlyweds ended last night with their arrest by Wichita police as they sat in the station wagon on a downtown street. Young Bowman was held on a charge of car theft but the barefoot bride was freed.

The young couple, both students at the University of Kansas City, were married at Olathe, Kas., on July 1. Two days later, however, an annulment suit was filed in behalf of the bride.

The boys are Ambrose Geib, 16 years old, 5754 Odell avenue; George Patterson, 16, of 6020 North Neva avenue, and Frank Skelly, 17, of 3226 Mango avenue. Intending to be gone 25 to 28 days, the boys are taking sleeping bags and a stove preparatory to living outdoors the entire time. Their boat is 16 feet long, with a 33 horse power outboard motor. They hope to make 200 miles a day.

Save Our Republic

LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH.

The various congressional inquiries into the progress of the American defense program apparently have not gone to the core of the matter. There is a gulf between the administration's pretenses and the administration's purposes, and congress would do the public a great service if, by an investigation, it could illuminate this situation.

The administration's pretense has been that it was arming for the defense of the country and the American hemisphere. For this Mr. Roosevelt asked appropriations and with the money planes, tanks, guns, and materiel of war were to be provided for the new American army raised by enlistment, the mobilization of the Guard, and by conscription.

The program thus advertised was to train men, but not for expeditionary service beyond the recognized lines of our own defense. Some of the men are nearing the end of their term of service but the new army has not been equipped. It hasn't the guns, or planes, or tanks and it is maneuvering much as the army did two years ago, and a year ago, without equipment.

We read in dispatches from Egypt that a great stream of American war materiel is pouring into Egypt thru the Red sea and that between 30 and 50 American merchant ships are carrying tanks, guns, aircraft, and munitions provided by the United States to equip the British army for empire purposes. London also reports that American materiel of excellent make is being received in increasing volume and that American bombers are rapidly turning the scales against the Germans and in favor of the British.

Here we would seem to have a contrast between pretense and purpose. If the United States is in the deadly peril of which the administration's spokesmen insinuate they have such grave information, why is the American army left without its equipment while production is diverted abroad? This country is said to be in the greatest danger now. It is promised its military equipment next year or some time in the more distant future.

The war department and the army chiefs, backing up Mr. Roosevelt's demand for a retention of the one year men, say that the army will virtually disappear unless the term of service is extended indefinitely for duration of the emergency. Gen. Marshall, the chief of staff, told the senate military affairs committee, according to the report of his statements now made public, that the army high command was preparing for every conceivable military undertaking within and beyond the boundaries of the western hemisphere. That is the duty of a high command, but in this case it represents the execution of the administration's purpose and not of its pretenses.

Gen. Marshall said that the military problems could not be solved satisfactorily unless the restrictions as to service were removed. He had to know that any particular force could be sent any place, at any time, if he were to organize the army units as self-contained commands.

The occupation of Iceland, he said, was not undertaken in the proper manner because the army, which should have been used, could not be used on account of the limitations, and the marines, which should not have been employed, had to be. The occupation of Iceland was beyond the pretenses with which the administration has fed the public, but it was well within the purpose, which is to get into the war abroad with an expeditionary force. The island was being held by the British and is still being held by the British, and what Mr. Roosevelt did was to put an American force on a battlefront alongside British soldiers.

The pretense regarding the National Guard and the drafted men—it was the pretense of a political campaign—was that they would be trained for a year and passed into the reserve while new men took their places in the camps. Thus, it was then said, the United States would develop an army sufficient in size to defend the continent. Against this proposal it was argued at the time that the purpose of national defense would be better served by an increase in the regular army, to be perfectly equipped in the light of all the experience of the present war. But that wouldn't serve political purposes at the time and it wouldn't serve the purposes of the war abroad.

A war abroad will require the conscription not of a million men but of five or ten million men. It will not permit the limitation of service either as to time or place. The pretenses are dropping away rapidly and the purposes are being disclosed. The equipment already is going abroad and Mr. Roosevelt asks for the authority to send the men and keep them in the service for duration.

The country is so opposed to sending troops to Europe, Asia, or Africa that a studied duplicity is required for the execution of the real purposes of the administration. It is difficult for any one to learn the facts. The country is kept in the dark until the overt act is done. Congress should investigate the whole matter of the war preparation and give the people the facts. What is being done for defense and what is being done for a war abroad? Are we preparing to defend this country or are we preparing for battles in Europe?

Where are our soldiers to be killed and our materiel to be used?

THE WAR MONGERS GET A DUBIOUS RECRUIT.

Ferdinand Pecora, the Tammany judge, apparently considers that memory of his abuse of judicial office has so dimmed with time that he can safely put himself forward as a public figure. He was one of a miscellaneous assortment of celebrities and notoriety seekers who addressed a recent Brooklyn meeting designed to whoop up the waning enthusiasm for war.

In 1938, when District Attorney Dewey of New York obtained an indictment charging the Tammany boss, Jimmy Hines, with protecting gangsters operating the numbers gambling racket, the case was assigned to Pecora. This was in itself an impropriety, since Hines was one of the men thru whose influence Pecora had obtained office. A more conscientious judge would have disqualified himself from hearing the case.

After Dewey had presented the bulk of his evidence against Hines, Pecora threw the case out of court on a strained technicality. The political implications of the ruling were obvious. Tammany was then fighting Dewey in his race for governor of New York. After the election Dewey presented the same evidence before another judge. A jury convicted Hines and the conviction was sustained upon appeal to the higher courts.

Pecora's adherence is a liability to any cause, even one as desperately in need of recruits as that of the war mongers.

GEORGIA IN CHAINS.

Gov. Talmadge of Georgia after much effort has succeeded in depriving his state of the services of four distinguished educators: Dr. Walter D. Cocking, dean of the school of education of the University of Georgia; Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president of the Georgia Teachers' college; Vice Chancellor J. Curtis Dixon of the state's system of higher education, and Prof. R. E. Davis of the agricultural college.

The board of regents a month ago heard the governor's charges against Dean Cocking, examined the evidence and sustained the dean. Later the governor managed to replace three of the regents who had voted not guilty and the removal of the four educators followed. Presumably their chairs will now go to nincompoops who will be content to take their assigned place in the Talmadge political machine. Certainly, in view of what has happened, no men of character and ability, no men who value their reputations, will consider accepting any of the positions. And equally certain, every self-respecting member of the Georgia faculties will be receptive to offers from other colleges.

The governor's accusations were vague, but the burden of them was that Dr. Cocking, Dr. Pittman, and the others, had been engaged in promoting what is called social equality between whites and Negroes. The fact is that the educators had been understandably eager to improve the quality of Negro schooling, but, if for no other reason than that they wanted to accomplish something, they had violated none of the taboos. Of Gov. Talmadge's two principal victims, Dr. Pittman is himself a Mississippian and Dean Cocking, an Iowan by birth, has lived long in the south and is distinguished for tact and common sense.

Gov. Talmadge has his victory. He has four more jobs to dispense. Likewise he has his issue. He can now prance around the state as the dauntless champion of the white race. He cannot lay claim to much originality. Many scoundrels and blatherskites before him have maintained themselves in public office by preaching race antagonism. Huey Long and Bilbo succeeded before him in degrading universities and turning over the administration of them to thieves or incompetents.

Mr. Talmadge's victory is at the expense of the people of his state and their progress. It is a victory for ignorance, poverty, and blind bigotry.

The regents have voted, but the last word has not been said. The people of Georgia are justifiably proud of their university and will not long admire the man who degraded it. The university and the other public institutions of higher learning in the state have lost distinguished faculty members and will no doubt lose others. The General Education board and the Rosenwald fund which have contributed generously to higher education in Georgia will hardly continue to do so much longer in face of clear evidence that the institutions are in the control of political vandals.

More than that, the Association of Southern Colleges and Secondary Schools is an organization which has the power to punish and is not easily intimidated as its record of successful action after Bilbo raided the University of Mississippi shows. In that affair the association had the support of every decent man and woman in Mississippi. In whatever action it now takes to reclaim the University of Georgia, the association will have the support of the decent people of Georgia. In the long run—and it may not be a very long one—Talmadge will not win.

100 YEARS OF PROBATION.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

Probation is 100 years old this year. Its centennial is being widely celebrated by men and women working in the probation-parole field, who look forward to another hundred years of gradual development.

The probation movement was started by John Augustus, a Boston shoemaker. On a sultry August day in 1841, this man "bailed out" and took under his supervision a man appearing in police court. He promised the court that he would do what he could to guide the prisoner to a better way of life. A few months later, when he returned the prisoner to court for discharge, "not even the scrutinizing officers would have believed he was the same person."

Over a period of 18 years John Augustus took 2,000 defendants into care—men, women, and children who showed promise—and it is said that only 10 of this whole number absconded.

So John Augustus not only started a new procedure for the treatment of persons convicted of crime but showed phenomenal success in his personal handling of their problems. Today, 100 years later, his basic idea still operates with increasing success, tho there have been, and in some places there still are, murky days.

Probation depends for its success on two major factors—proper selection of cases and adequate supervision of probationers. In some jurisdictions the first factor is largely ignored. Persons are placed on probation despite a highly unsatisfactory prognosis. In some jurisdictions, too, the second factor leaves much to be desired. Thru lack of interest or for "economy," supervision limps. Sometimes the probation officers are anything but qualified for their tasks. Sometimes, when the officers are good, there are too few of them to insure adequate results.

Here in Wisconsin, probation has on the whole been more than usually successful, but we are still not in a position to "point with satisfied pride" to our accomplishments. We still need more and better officers to do the best possible job with the system that John Augustus started 100 years ago in that dusty Boston courtroom.

Lend, hoping for nothing again, said St. Luke vi., 35, and it does mean us under the lease-lend law.—Illinois State Journal.

MR. PEPYS PROWLS BY NIGHT.

16th July—Went to the far southwestern part of town the other night to help my French friends celebrate their Fête de la Bastille at Pilsen park, and was tempted to dance the maxixe, the cancan, and other old Parisian folk measures to defy Marshal Petain, who said the Quatorze Juillet should be a day of mourning; and came away wearing a tri-color boutonnière. Then I walked a mile in the neighborhood, finding it a region of houses with peaked roofs, neatly painted, and trees, and families whom I took to be Bohemians or Poles sitting at ease on their doorsteps, all very cozy.

Then by tramcar eastward, passing a dark tract of railroad tracks and lumberyards, and a great printing factory lighted up for workers of the night shift, and Chinatown, until I came to State and 22d streets. There I was seized with a notion to explore the district once notorious for its sinfulness, about which you can read in a book called "Gem of the Prairie," so I walked around the block, 22d-Dearborn-21st-State. If it had been bombed several times, and then filled with junk, and put out in the Mojave desert to bake, and bleach, and dry-rot for 20 years, it could not look worse.

The old Marlborough hotel, which contained Frank Wing's, later Buxbaum's, café, still stands at the State street corner, but empty. Dearborn street is veritably the heart of darkness; only a few houses are standing, in use as Negro tenements. All the rest is ruin, junk, and a deathly silence. Some of the junk piles seemed to be composed of old sedan chairs, and it seemed I had crossed the fourth dimension and entered a London slum of the 18th century. Then I realized that the sedan chairs were really the seats or cabs from dismembered trucks.

I surveyed the forlorn scene and said, "What price the four freedoms over the seven seas when we have this blight to clean up and fill with new life?"

Advertising in the Eloquent '80s.

L. E. Dicke, collector of Chicago antiquities, has presented to this column a brochure of the 1880s, which was issued by the advertising department of a great brewing company. It is largely devoted to a tipple called "Best Tonic," said to make women more beautiful, men more romantic, and invalids fit to encounter John L. Sullivan.

Here is a specimen of the style of this slightly amazing document:

"In the glistening brewhouse the malt and hops kiss with true love and wed, pass to the silent life of quiet purity in the cool cellars; therefrom, like rubies and topazes set with pearls, to issue a concentrated river of strength, vitality, power, calmness, and rich perfection.

"And now the extract is made; it is sent abroad, seeking the sick and suffering, building up a constitution here, strengthening a nerveless arm there, calming a distracted mind, increasing and enriching the food nature intended for babies, lightening the housewife's tiresome round of duties, brightening the eyes, making luscious lips more rosy, bringing smiles of happiness and health to the wan face of the consumptive, whispering to the dyspeptic the joy of eating what he likes, and thus spreading abroad a veritable shower of joy to all who taste and find its delicate perfection."

Workin' on the Railroad.

For 44 years I've been cruising around this old apple waiting for a train wreck that did not (in the papers) concern a "crack" train. In France I saw the narrow gauge smack an auto—it was described as a "crack" train on the Romorantin-Gievre line. I've seen a local that ran 65 miles derailed—the newspapers reported it as the T., M. & W. "crack flyer." One time a combination passenger and freight train on a side line split a switch—the County Sun reported it as the "crack flyer." Comes the millennium—THE TRIBUNE on July 12 reported a slight accident near Fort Wayne and reported it simply as "train 43." Give that reporter a 21 whistle salute and with three fusees for the first accident that ever happened to an ordinary train. Adrian of Arizona.

A NEW USE FOR AN OLD HERB.

RUBBING some part of the body to relieve local pain is a common practice, and well it may be. Friction increases the blood flow and hastens the return of used up fluid to the heart and lungs. When we combine a soothing medicine with massage we enhance the effect, as a portion of the substance may reach the nerve endings in the skin and thus quiet irritation.

Plasters likewise come in for a generous share of popular attention—for lumbago, particularly. Years ago poultices were extremely popular in the treatment of pneumonia, and even today a well advertised mixture of clay finds favor in certain quarters. But these preparations are all designed to hold heat and thus augment the dispatch of new blood to the affected area. Some formulas include an irritant, such as mustard, but all are thought to be more effective when renewed frequently and put on as hot as the patient can stand.

Every now and then some one will revive an old remedy and a recent report on the value of a plaster containing lobelia suggests that there may be many ancient drugs which it would be well to re-explore.

Most of us are familiar with the beautiful blue flower of the plant, which was named after Matthias de Lobel, physician to James I. Another species displays a scarlet blossom, and at one time bore the name, "the cardinal's flower." This was described in the 17th century by an explorer who wrote, "It groweth neere the riuer of Canada, where the French plantation in America is seated." As lads, we may have encountered "Indian tobacco." This, likewise, is used in medicine.

But what merit has this native weed? The leaves and tops have long been known to possess sedative properties, and have been utilized in asthma, croup, and whooping cough. For this purpose, an extract is administered internally. Lobeline is the active principle, and it is now thought to be helpful in destroying the taste for tobacco.

The studies of L. J. Boyd are of interest. He calls attention to the fact that plasters of this preparation will be of benefit in easing pain, such as that which accompanies arthritis, pleurisy, acute inflammation of the bronchi, lumbago, etc. The mixture is spread upon the skin, covering the involved region completely. Over this, a thin sheet of paper is laid and fixed in place with a muslin binder.

In pleurisy, which usually accompanies pneumonia, instead of strapping the chest, this same plan is resorted to. Of course, sulfapyridine [one of the sulfanilamide derivatives] is given to combat the initial infection, but the lessening of discomfort is claimed for the plaster because the chemical has no influence upon pain.

According to this author, the soreness was relieved within a few hours. The patients observed that they experienced a sense of warmth, as well increasing comfort. When applied over the trachea and bronchi [the front of the chest], coughing was reduced substantially and expectoration was more easily raised.

All in all, 27 cases of pleurisy, 10 of bronchitis, and 49 of arthritis were subjected to this procedure. Forty of the latter reported marked improvement. Boyd concludes his description of the experiment with the statement that out of 100 patients, 86 were helped—either partially or completely. There were no systemic reactions from the compound—such as vomiting, faintness, or disturbances of the nervous system [restlessness].

LOW WHITE CELLS.

L. P. writes: What could cause a sudden fall in the white cell count?

REPLY.

Probably the use of some drug, such as amidopyrine [pyramidon], or other coal tar compounds. Certain diseases present low counts.

ANEMIA.

L. S. writes: Can a person develop anemia by doing a lot of brain work?

REPLY.

SUBWAY FOR SURFACE CARS?

Chicago, July 14.—Now that the subways are about completed, why are they offered only to the elevated lines? The traction fund which financed the building I believe was collected from the profits of the surface lines.

The northwest side can be better served by the surface lines operating the Milwaukee avenue subway as an express service for Division, Armitage, and Milwaukee avenue cars. The surface tracks could be used for the Elston avenue cars and perhaps some local cars of the above lines. These surface cars carry more passengers and serve a larger territory than the Logan Square and Humboldt Park branches of the elevated. In fact if these two branches of the elevated were operated with surface cars service could be improved.

An added advantage is that traffic would be speeded up at such three point intersections as: Halsted and Grand, Ogden and Chicago, and Division and Ashland, both for motorists and the intersecting street car lines. The cars that use Milwaukee avenue also cross several busy north and south lines in the loop twice and there would be an additional saving in time.

All that the elevated lines offer is to serve a smaller area at a fare higher than the steam railroads charge in the same vicinity, and none of the other benefits are possible if they get the franchise.

GEORGIAN ASKS FOR UNITY.

Atlanta, Ga., July 12.—Don't you think it is about time for THE TRIBUNE to definitely change its policy and not discourage us Americans who realize that from the standpoint of the administration it is committed to the lend-lease program, and from the standpoint of unity there should be no such thing as discord? After all, there is no crime in admitting error, and in my judgment you are hurting the cause of democracy.

No one claims that this government is perfect. But certainly, we should look at our virtues and not at our faults during this great crisis, for whether you will it or not, we are on our way to save humanity, in which we ourselves are included.

ARMAND MAY.

EXHIBIT THE GOLD STARS.

Chicago, July 14.—May I offer a suggestion that I believe will make people think? Your publication is a mighty voice in the central west and the News of New York is justly respected.

The suggestion is: Request all mothers, still alive, and all sisters of deceased World war veterans to place Gold Stars in the windows of their homes, offices, and shops.

The moral? Before we have such a Messiah complex about the New Deal let each of us think about the old deal.

MRS. MARGARET MITCHELL.

LIONS CLUB WANTS TO KNOW.

Chicago, July 15.—The Lions club of Roseland wishes to add its complaint to the many already emphasized in the Voice of the People regarding the unsafe condition of Rock Island crossings at 105th, 107th, 111th, 115th, and 119th streets on the main line.

The Rock Island has recognized, to a trifling extent, the complaints regarding the condition of the crossing at 119th street. They have patched up the many gaping holes in the crossing and made it finally passable for motorists without breaking springs. They have also installed additional flicker lights at this crossing, but in this day and age, with modern silent streamlined trains speeding across 119th street 60 to 70 miles an hour, flicker lights are not sufficient protection in themselves. Automatic gates or watchmen are badly needed to prevent a continuance of this unnecessary slaughter. May we ask just what you intend to do about it, Mr. Durham? [Chief executive officer of Rock Island lines.]

ROSELAND LIONS CLUB,
Reginald DuBois, President.

REASSURING?

Cairo, Ill., July 15.—THE TRIBUNE says: "Roosevelt is preparing another, or, more accurately, a number of expeditionary forces to fight in the old world," but he has done nothing to even foreshadow such movements. He has moved to garrison Iceland to protect supply depots and defend our continent from enemy dangers in the North Atlantic—both may be said to help to carry out the, intent of the "lend-lease" law. His efforts so far are to get the goods to England. They show caution not to give cause to the Nazi for interference. He is violating no law.

If Hitler makes no attack we will not be in the war, and should he, then only as to the navy.

C. S. BRITTON.

PRESCRIBES KINDNESS.

Lake Forest, Ill., July 15.—While our schools for delinquent children are searching for ways of not graduating so many thieves and murderers, would it not be worth their while to consider having the managers of these schools use a little kindness in dealing with these children? No boy was ever made a good boy by brutal treatment.

Father Flanagan, the head of Boys Town, says there was never such a thing as a bad boy—if they are treated with kindness and love, and no boy trained in Boys Town has ever become a criminal.

MRS. SHARPE.

AN APPEAL TO CYCLISTS.

Chicago, July 14.—Won't the boys and girls riding bicycles on pavements please consider mothers and children in particular and give some kind of signal or warning of their approach in order to avoid any accident?

MRS. M. DELL.

EARNS LESS AT HIGHER FARES.

Chicago, July 14.—The "L" lines in 1928 in anticipation of a traction merger ordinance raised the fare from 8½ to 10 cents and lost heavily thereby as the number of riders at once decreased. Now in view of another merger ordinance, an increase in fare to 12 cents is asked. This will result in a further decrease in traffic and increased losses.

The lines admit that heavy losses are due to transfers to bus and street car lines as the "L" share of the transfer fare is only 6 cents from which must be deducted cost and maintenance of transfer stamping machines, accounting expense, etc. Why continue the unprofitable transfer arrangement, charging the loss to cash paying passengers?

L. PASSENGER.

FORGOTTEN DRAFTEES.

Fort Sheridan, Ill., July 14.—Draftees—over 28—who were inducted before the new deferment ruling went into effect—should be discharged now. Why have we been entirely forgotten? Will you help us? Our number is few—yet we are being forgotten in pending legislation.

Save the morale of the nation by indorsing discharge of all draftees when their one year of service is completed.

IN BEHALF OF DRAFTEES OVER 28.

Test Your Horse Sense

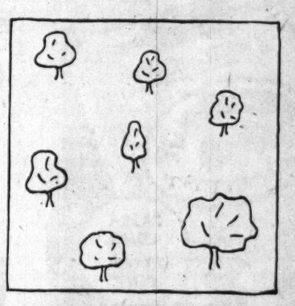
1. Which one of these creatures has caused the greatest number of human deaths? Cow Tiger Lion Elephant.
2. Buenos Aires is an important city located in which of these countries? Spain Brazil Venezuela Argentina.
3. The current price of hogs on the hoof is approximately how much per 100 pounds? $5.75 $7.35 $10.25 $16.45.
4. Muslin is a common fabric made from which of these substances? Wool Cotton Silk Flax.
5. One of the easiest ways to induce vomiting is to swallow a glass full of warm, dilute vinegar solution, and then follow it with another glass of a warm solution of Coffee Tea Lemonade Baking Soda.
6. Here is an orchard containing seven large fruit trees, each of which is valued at $5,000 because the twigs thereof are constantly in demand for grafting or budding other less desirable trees. The famous horticulturist owning this orchard died, and bequeathed the seven trees to his seven children. They drew lots, each child getting one tree. Then they built three straight fences which split up the orchard into seven plots, each containing a single tree. You deserve 5 points if you can draw such a fencing arrangement.



Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

Institute Opens World Water Color Exhibit

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

The 20th International Exhibition of water colors opens at the Art institute today and is the most important event of the summer art calendar. It will continue to Oct. 5.

The work of painters in Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Cuba, Czecho-Slovakia, England, Guatemala, Holland, Italy, Japan, Jugoslavia, Mexico, Poland, Russia, Spain, Germany, France, and Switzerland together with that of artists in our own country fills all of the east wing galleries except three. These contain one man shows by Charles E. Burchfield, Andrew Wyeth, and Marc Chagall.

To Mr. Burchfield went the $600 Watson F. Blair prize for a somber, sinister depiction of an old home, called "House of Mystery." The second award, the Watson F. Blair Purchase prize of $400, was given to Roy M. Mason for his richly toned water color of two derelict men, lounging on a wall near the sea, their figures seen against the tall white wall of a nearby building. The title of this painting is "Gbin' All t' Hell."

Tom Dietrich won the William H. Tuthill Purchase prize of $100 for "The Valley," a vigorously brushed scene of factory buildings and river carried out in lively blues and tawny reds and yellows.

The exhibition is noteworthy for its high standard of technical skill. There are few poorly painted pictures in the huge collection of 537 water colors, pastels, drawings, and works in gouache and tempera. Also, there are only a small number of radically modern paintings. On the whole the show leans toward the conservative side. For this reason the gallery given over to the fantastic, brilliantly colored, naive pictures by Chagall is bound to attract a lot of comment.

One of the outstanding works of the collection is Ogden Pleissner's "Monday Morning," which was given honorable mention. It is a superbly handled painting, the subject being a group of humble Negro shacks with three figures in the foreground, two standing in the smoke of a log fire waiting for a huge kettle of water to heat. The third, a woman, is washing clothes, some of which have already been hung on the line.

The remarkable quality of this water color is a definite sense of the third dimension which has been achieved by the spacing of the figures about the fire and by the skilled depicting of smoke. Mr. Pleissner must be ranked among the ablest of contemporary painters. A show of his work was held here recently at the O'Brien gallery.

Raphael Soyer's water color and pastel, "After the Bath," a study of a nude done in delicate blues, pink, and white, was also given honorable mention.

Of special interest are the contributions from a number of the younger artists of Mexico: Manuel Echauri, Maria Izquierdo, Guillermo Meza, Paz Perez, Joan Soriano, and Raul Uribe, whose work is not well known in this country. France is represented by Leger, Lurcat, Mané-Katz, Tanguy, Braque, Matisse, Rouault, and others.

For a Hot Summer Day

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Super cool summer duet of sunshade hat and matching bag of smooth striped straw cloth. Such striped straw is particularly effective with solid colored summer clothes. With shantung, linen, or tailored silk, and with smart spectator sports costumes the sharp contrast is ideal. Red and white, blue and white, black and white, and brown and white are the color selections.

'Day at Races' Nets $10,000 for Charity

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

It is certain the babies and mothers who are cared for by the Chicago Maternity center never were aided by a more unusual benefit than the "day at the races" which the officers and directors of the center sponsored yesterday. The day was perfect and Arlington Park never looked more beautiful. Every one, including Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, chairman of the board of the center, had a marvelous time, and it is probable it will not be Chicago's last "day at the races" for charity.

Mrs. Charles J. MacKimm, general chairman of the committee that arranged the affair, estimated that more than $10,000 had been cleared.

The Post and Paddock club was filled with luncheon parties before the program started, altho many entertained at luncheon away from the track and later took their guests to the club. Mrs. T. Philip Swift was one of these. Among her guests were her sister, Mrs. Dexter Cummings, their subdeb daughters, Betty Swift and Joyce Cummings; Mrs. Charles F. Glore, Mrs. William V. McIlvaine Jr. and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Benjamin Brewster of Baltimore; Mrs. John Andrews King, Mrs. Vincent Healy, Mrs. Laurance H. Armour, Mrs. Huntington B. Henry, and Mrs. Henry Rowley. Mrs. Swift and Mrs. Glore were wearing identical hats, little beige pancakes held in place with inch wide bands of the same and trimmed with bunches of pussy-willows.

Mrs. Armour was charming in a black silk suit with white flowers on her lapel to match the ones that trimmed her tiny white hat.

Mrs. George Henry Schulz, a member of the center board, was one of the several beautifully dressed women all in beige, gown and hat. Mrs. Sidney S. Gorham also chose this cool neutral for her hat and blouse, but her skirt and pumps were a rich, warm cocoa brown.

Mrs. Lois Thompson Nicholson was prepared for a cool day in a beige tweed frock with long sleeves. More unusual earrings than Mrs. John Landreth's would be difficult to find. They are gold chickens large enough to more than cover the lobes of her ears. Mrs. Bradley Eben's long blonde hair was partly covered by a bunch of field flowers and a fiery red mist of tulle. Her black suit had white lingerie at the throat and wrists.

A few of the others at the track were Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, Mrs. George A. Kelly, Mrs. Roger Faherty, Mrs. Charles Kittle, Mrs. Russell Doherty, Mrs. George Renwick, Mrs. William M. Collins, Mrs. Eugene A. Howard and her daughter, Miss Merikay, Miss Patricia Hawley, Mrs. Eugene B. Clark, Mrs. Horatio Hackett, who just recently returned with Col. Hackett from New York to live in Chicago; Mrs. J. Clark Dean, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Allen and their guests, Col. and Mrs. Joseph McIntosh of Warrenton, Va.; Mrs. George E. Van Hagen and Miss Elizabeth Van Hagen, Mrs. George Getz, Mrs. Charles S. Pearce, Maj. and Mrs. Ednyfed Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Starrett, Miss Sarah Hinde, Mrs. Champ Carry.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Humphrey Bradford of Winnetka have announced the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Elizabeth, to Walter William Niebling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niebling of South Orange, N. J., and Miami Beach, Fla. The wedding is planned for Aug. 16. Miss Bradford was graduated from the University of Illinois. Her fiancé, a graduate of the Wharton school of the University of Pennsylvania, is engaged in business in New York City.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Professor's Son.

A child of a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago was invited to the north shore for a holiday and told he might bring two or three friends with him. He telephoned several, and found none could go.

"Why not?" asked his mother upon learning of his unsuccessful telephone calls.

"They all have homework," answered the lad.

"No, I have adjusted myself to low grades," answered the boy.

Pool Visitors.

Some Saddle and Cycle club members approached the swimming pool for a plunge after a tennis match late Tuesday afternoon and found the pool occupied. John Root, chairman of the house committee, stared in astonishment. A mother wild duck and seven baby ducks were swimming contentedly about. Members gave up their swim in favor of the guests. Soon frightened, shrill quacking was heard from the vicinity of the pool. Investigation disclosed that only five baby ducks were swimming about their mother, and that two had gone down the drain, from which spot the quacking issued. The hero of the occasion was William Kipping, club superintendent. After other means had failed, he fished out the babies, one at a time, by means of a wire strainer attached to a long stick. The little ones joined their mother, and the excitement subsided. After she had finished her swim, the mother marshaled her little brood, put the ones that couldn't seem to manage the steps out of the pool onto her back and they departed in the direction of the shrubbery.

Writer.

A man entered Paul Romaine's book shop, Bertha Aft reports, and inquired for dream books and joke books. The saleswoman, who noticing he was well dressed and curious because of the type of books he had asked for, inquired if he was in the show business.

"I'm a writer," said the man proudly. He pulled a Variety out of his pocket, opened it up and showed her an article.

"I wrote that," he said proudly and pointed to his by-line.

He was Milton Berle.

Family of Artists.

The mother of Mitchell Siporin, Chicago artist now at work with Edward Millman on murals for the postoffice in St. Louis, the biggest art commission yet awarded by the treasury department, was bored one day.

"Why don't you paint?" asked her son.

"I've never painted. Why should I paint?" she inquired.

"Well, try it out," urged her son. He supplied her with brushes and water colors and she set to work. Mrs. Siporin turned out some Russian fairy tale like pictures with Chagall-ish figures wandering thru them. Her son, pleased by her success, suggested she submit them to the jury selecting paintings for the International Watercolor show, that opens today at the Art institute. One of them was selected. Evening at Home, by Jennie Siporin, and hangs in the show as well as two water colors done by her son.

Gilbert Sings and All Is Well in Grant Park

BY EDWARD BARRY.

J. Charles Gilbert is the man whose jolly face has been brightening the Civic Opera house and Civic theater lobbies since he became manager of those houses three years ago. Before that he was a light opera singer, and survived no fewer than 1,826 performances of that "Tobacco Road" of the musical stage, "Blossom Time."

Looking and sounding none the worse for all this wear and tear, he came to Grant park last night to appear as baritone soloist with the Chicago Opera orchestra and to drown his executive cars in floods of song. Leo Kopp conducted.

Gilbert's perfect diction and the beautiful texture of his voice delighted the audience. One thing led to another until he had sung "Come to the Fair," "Thine Is My Heart Alone," and other similar songs, as well as operatic excerpts from "L'Africaine," "Don Giovanni," and "The Barber of Seville."

Mr. Kopp and the orchestra gave rough and ready performances of Weingartner's ornamented version of Weber's "Invitation to the Waltz," Beethoven's Fifth symphony, and other just as exacting works.

The Fifth symphony was heard on W-G-N and constituted the first of a series of 10 Grant park broadcasts by that station. The other nine will all, with one exception, fall on Sunday.

Sally to Pick Her Baseball Guests Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Time's up, boys and girls!

If you haven't written for an invitation to see the Chicago Cubs play the Boston Braves on July 24 one week from today, it's no use now, because the winners will be selected this morning. We have hundreds of letters, long and short, in crayon and pencil and ink, and I'm sure I'll have quite a time choosing 50 boys and 50 girls from all those who wrote to me.

After the selection has been made, the lists will be ready for printing in next Sunday's TRIBUNE—so if you wrote a good letter and are very sure that you didn't forget to tell me your full name, address and age—maybe you'll see your name and address in my column on Sunday.

This is the big day for all the youngsters who've won invitations to our gay party at the Hotel Sherman this afternoon. It's going to be even better than I expected, and I know that some youngsters whose names weren't listed with the winners last Sunday have been very pleasantly surprised by the mailman.

Those boys and girls can thank Mr. Frank Bering of the Sherman for that, because he suggested that we bring more than the usual number of guests. Of course, I was delighted to do that, because it's sometimes difficult to select just one hundred letters from five or six times that many, so even tho it was too late to revise our lists, personal invitations were sent out. See you this afternoon, boys and girls!

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

There is one rather little known preparation on the market that's a boon to those with oily skin. It's a liquid, to be used most sparingly, right on the nose. Being a fairly powerful astringent, it's better suited to the oily, rather coarse skin than to the thin, consistently dry one. But it does help to keep the shine subdued for hours on end.

We'd consider this a product for the woman whose nose is excessively oily. Those whose complexions wilt simply because the day is hotter than usual can keep their faces straight with a few other tricks.

One is the frequent use, during the day, of those face lotions that check the oil flow mildly. Just accept the fact that you'll have to re-do your makeup a little oftener than you ordinarily do. Use a light cleanser, followed by face lotion, and, if you use a foundation, choose one that's light and thin in texture.

Your face powder may be a little too heavy for hot weather use. Sometimes just changing to a lighter weight, or blending a light one in with your usual weight will make the shade of difference that retards quick wilting.

Your complexion, like your tummy, requires a lighter diet in summer. Greasy creams and heavy makeup aren't suited to the season.

INSTALMENT IV.
A GIRL'S FAITH.

"O! Worms in cans, mud tracks on the carpets, wet swim suits on the veranda rails, midnight raids on the refrigerator."

Kathleen had just found another note from her grandmother, saying—"remember, this house is used to laughter." She thought, and Susan is one of the reasons why.

"No. You've got him all wrong. He isn't a pest. He's a genius."

"I'm not comparing Toby with Beethoven. And, anyhow, it was vice versa. Say right out if you object to extra trouble, Susan. Let us understand each other."

"O, no, Miss Kathleen. I'm all for it. I want to see you pleased and happy."

Susan's face was a wrinkled map of curiosity. Kathleen answered her unasked questions.

"I liked Mr. Lang very much. I'm glad you pushed me out to meet him."

"I pushed you out——?"

"Yes, you practically threw me off the veranda. Sink or swim. Well, I'm swimming in the local society. He's going to call tonight to take me to the theater. Know anything about Miss Keyes, Susan?"

Susan knew everything. And about everybody.

"Miss Keyes is a bit wild. Her mother died five years ago and her father spoils her. I guess he's glad she has a fit to work at the theater. She used to drive on the high road as if it were a race track. Last season she got sweet on that ham actor. Now she's crazy about him."

"You use your ears, Susan."

"And my eyes. Many's the mornings I've seen them go into the woods from yonder lake path. Not that I'm saying they shouldn't. It's their own business."

"He has fancy taste in clothes. I saw him this morning."

"He has that. He rents one of the Paysons' cabins, lives like a sparrow and comes out like a kingfisher."

"She's a charming girl. But she doesn't strike me as being a clever one."

"She is at getting what she wants. It was her introduced Mr. Lang to the company one season. He was staying up there to write a play on his summer vacation, and she figured he might as well have it produced, so she took him to Miss Keyes. And he, in turn, took Maurice Reed there. And now look where that fellow's got. Leading man—even if he is bumped off by the leading lady."

"Good for Jeanie. I could tell by the way she took me in hand that she believes life is a game of help thy neighbor."

Susan's eyes had a warm look in them. "Everybody likes Jeanie. Old Mr. Jessel loaned her mother the money for the cabins just because he liked Jeanie. Her mother's a regular sour puss. He stayed in the hotel. Now he's bought a house there." Susan leaned over the veranda rail and pointed with a wrinkled finger. "That's the one."

Kathleen saw slim white chimneys among trees.

"I think I saw into the gardens from the hillside path this morning. White, with blue shutters. A lovely place."

"That's it. It's common talk that some day it will be Jeanie's."

"Hasn't he any heirs?"

"Relatives he don't like, they say. He's no one near to him. But it don't mean it's true because it's common knowledge."

"I realize that. Now I must run and send that telegram."

She got out her car and drove to the Willowdale postoffice. If she merely invited Toby for a vacation, maybe he wouldn't come. His mother sat in a wheel chair and did needlework at home to get money. Toby worked at the corner grocery store after school to help her. She stood on the doorstep of the postoffice pondering before she went in. She did not want to raise his hopes by promising too much.

"But, after all," she murmured aloud, "it's true that he's intelligent beyond his years."

She went in and wired $200 for his traveling expenses, then she wrote out a telegram.

"There is a chance here for a great future, Toby. Take the chance and come immediately. Love to your mother. Kathleen."

And I hope it's true, she thought, going out into the sunlight again. People talked so grandly, and when it came to really doing something, didn't do it. But Hugo Lang wasn't like that. No, he couldn't be like that. She drove back to Lakesend. Her feelings puzzled her. She had always been impulsive, reckless and generous with her friendship, but had never been subject to quick infatuations and childish crushes. What was it that made her so excited about knowing Hugo? So sure that if he said something he really meant it? That he would not forget it? That particularly he would not go back on anything he had said to her? That under his humorous mockery he was a very solid character, warm, veracious and sincere?

Even humble and not quite sure of himself. Needing her to have faith in him. To have that superfaith. To know. Her heart was beating very fast as she got out of the car and went thru the house.

Kathleen brought herself up sharply. Wishful thinking because Lang had some glamor about him compounded of his charm, his mind and his exceptionally attractive personality. It was ridiculous to imagine he needed anything from her.

She picked up the book she had been reading from the veranda table and settled down in her grandmother's old rocker. But her content had been dissipated and her heart disturbed. She was sitting back with the book closed on her lap, her eyes resting dreamily on the blue sheen of the lake fringed with its feathery willows, when Susan came out to announce she had served the lunch.

It was a warm night with a clear sky softly burning with stars. The play was given in the open air auditorium. Lang called promptly at 7 in his car. Kathleen had been reasoning with herself in the meantime, and achieved a calm, analytical state of mind. But on seeing him the impression of the morning was confirmed. He was more attractive than she had remembered, and it seemed to her he was thinking the same thing of herself.

"That's a swell frock," he said with his cheerful informality. "Wish my leading lady was so willowy about the waist."

But it was her face he looked at and his eyes spoke of strong liking and admiration. Kathleen sat in his car beside him feeling a keen edge of joy sharpen her sense of well being. Mysterious human emotions which could weave a spell unseen and make life overnight into somthing adventurous and lovely.

He drove around the backs of the lakeside villas and turned into the Willowdale road.

"I sent a telegram for Toby to come," she told him.

"Good. I did some swell work this afternoon. I let myself go on the boy's part. You sold me on the idea I could count on him."

"O, you can," she said fervently.

The summer pie often is quite different from the winter pie. It may or may not have the same kind of crust. If it does, chances are that the crust is only a lower one. Perhaps it's a graham cracker or cookie crust, not one made with pastry. The summer pie filling usually is fruity, and, in the warmest weather, it's probably of the chiffon variety.

Lemon chiffon pie is one of the favorites. There's something cool and refreshing about a spongy lemon chiffon pie with a thin layer of whipped cream over its surface. This is one of my favorite recipes for this summer delicacy.

Lemon Chiffon Pie.

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sugar
¾ cup lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup whipping cream

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Combine half the sugar with lemon juice, salt, and slightly beaten egg yolks and cook, stirring constantly, in the top of a double boiler until of custard consistency. Add softened gelatin and grated lemon rind. Cool and chill until the mixture begins to stiffen. Beat egg whites until light, and gradually beat remaining sugar into them. Whip until a stiff meringue is formed. Fold meringue into chilled custard. Whip half the cream. Fold it into the mixture and save the remainder to whip just before serving, for the top of the pie. Pour filling into baked pie shell and chill until firm. Cream may be whipped all at once and folded into the mixture.

This same basic recipe may be used for many another fruit chiffon pie. For fresh cherry chiffon pie, use cherry juice instead of lemon juice, and fold one cup chopped cherries into the filling. A cup of strained raspberry or blackberry pulp may be used in place of the ½ cup of lemon juice. For either cherry or berry pie, a little lemon rind is good, but a teaspoonful is a little too much. Half a teaspoonful is plenty.

If you'd like other luscious recipes for chiffon pies, send 5 cents in stamps for "27 Choice Chiffon Pies," a mimeographed booklet which tells you how to make many an unusual crust, as well. Chocolate, graham cracker, cookie, and cornflake crust recipes are included, as well as several variations of plain pastry.

Director Gets Blame for This Talent Waste

"TOM, DICK, AND HARRY."
Produced by RKO.
Directed by Garson Kanin.
Presented at the Palace Theater.

THE CAST:

Janie ..... Ginger Rogers
Tom ..... George Murphy
Dick ..... Alan Marshal
Harry ..... Burgess Meredith
Pop ..... Joe Cunningham
Ma ..... Jane Seymour
Babs ..... Lenore Lonergan
Paula ..... Vicki Lester
Ice Cream Man ..... Paul Silvers
Gertrude ..... Betty Breckenridge

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Well, far be it from me to want to say it but, for about three-fourths of this picture Ginger Rogers not only acts like a halfwit but looks like one.

Where on earth the director could have been while she was doing herself such injustice I can't imagine. Out for a hamburger and got detained, possibly. I'll give him a break and take it for granted that he couldn't have been around.

The incredible story shows Ginger as a telephone operator who wants to marry wealth. . . . Three different types of men go completely gaga over her—an up and coming young automobile salesman, a gay and impractical mechanic and—the rich man—who meets her one night and proposes to her the next. . . . We'll be kind to the picture and let it show you which one finally wins out. . . . [Loses, says you—I think.]

The three suitors are smartly portrayed [maybe the director just didn't like girls] by George Murphy as the salesman, Burgess Meredith as the mechanic and Alan Marshall as the golden playboy. . . . Difficult to imagine either Tom, Dick, or Harry dating a goof like Janie. Lenore Lonergan, as Jane's sister, is a dandy! Watch this young lady. I suspect she's going places!

This review may seem harsh—but I feel harsh! Ginger Rogers has talent, personality, and looks and it makes me SICK to have her so wasted.

MISS' SUMMERTIME FROCK.

This is a versatile pattern, in that it makes either a one or a two piece frock. Sketched at the left is the one-piece version, with bow-tied neckline, simple short sleeves, cleverly cut midriff sector, and full, shirred skirt. At the right, the same pattern done two-piece manner, with the blouse to contrast. Notice the different neckline which you may, of course, incorporate into the one-piece dress, should you so desire.

Style No. 3036 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Lovingness Is Essential in Child Rearing

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

This is going to be one of those articles that won't mean a thing to you if the going, at the moment, is as smooth as a summer sea. Even so, I advise you to read it, because you never know, even if the skies are clear and the wind light, when a squall will blow up or a long spell of bad weather will set in. And if that time comes, the gist of this column may have stuck and be a help to you.

To the other parents, those who are baffled and even grieved over a puzzling or unhappy phase in their son's or daughter's life, it will mean a great deal.

The case with which I had intimate acquaintance and which I want to use as an illustration concerned a young girl. From babyhood she had been ebullient, laughter loving, happy, altho not happy-go-lucky, being too sensitive and imaginative for that. Then, as she reached the age of about 9, a change was noticeable. She would become very much annoyed about things that previously had disturbed her little. She seemed often aimless, uninterested. Her homework became an ordeal. And to her family's distress, as she got to be 11 and 12, she would have moments of a sort of unhappy anger in which she would sometimes [and it often looked like an act of desperation] throw or break something.

Now here comes the illuminating part: During these years a physical ailment, the kind that does not put the patient to bed, was diagnosed and a cure begun. Later the parents were told that this physical difficulty had almost directly affected the nervous system, and that in addition their daughter had probably not for years experienced a continuous sense of physical well being. Forbearance, and what I call an all-lovingness and all-patience, carried the young girl thru this bad period with an undimmed sense of security in her family's love and understanding. She is now "in the clear," poised and serene once more.

The "moral" of these tales? Briefly, that we should do all we can to understand the well-springs of human action in our children, at any age, and act accordingly.

Injudicious, or premature, penalty doubles are more costly than any other type of bad bid. The percentage of contracts made solely thru the information conveyed by these doubles is amazing. When one considers that the reverse of the picture is not much better, that is, that countless contracts go down from three to five tricks without being doubled, the conclusion is inevitable that a great deal of education is needed in this department of the game.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	3 clubs	3 hearts	Double
Redouble	4 clubs	4 no trump	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	6 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

I am not overlooking the fact that West's fantastic three club bid, vulnerable, was highly ambiguous to East, who, not unnaturally, took it to mean that West had some honor strength. To overcall with a hand like West's, for all the eight card suit, is really to invite trouble, but there still was no excuse for East's double of three hearts. East should have realized that North's jump bid guaranteed further bidding by North-South. Presumably, North had a "fit" with his partner's opening spade bid; otherwise, with a heart suit lacking the king and queen, he could hardly have jumped. Thus, there did not appear much chance that the final contract would be in hearts, and this made it all the more foolish for East to disclose the heart situation by his double. If, by a miracle, the opponents were to land in a heart contract, East would be delighted; if they didn't, East had merely put up a warning sign for the exclusive use of the opponents.

Without East's double of three hearts, South's subsequent play would have been sheer "double-dummy." West opened the club jack. Declarer won, and found it necessary to draw three rounds of spades. Since this left only one trump in dummy, there was no way of "stripping the hand" before attacking the heart suit. It would take dummy's last trump to ruff South's low diamond. But, warned by East's double of hearts that a very bad heart lay existed, declarer determined to effect a strip even at considerable risk, rightly feeling that it was better to try this than to lose two heart tricks without a struggle.

A low diamond was led to the ace and a diamond returned and finessed! The jack holding, the king was cashed, followed by the club king. Now, with diamonds and clubs eliminated from both hands, declarer let the heart ten ride, and East was helpless. A heart return would be into dummy's tenace, and a diamond return would permit a ruff and a discard.

Walgreen DRUG STORES

Don't Be Fat!

No Strict Diet Lists; No Strenuous Exercises; No Distasteful Drugs

IN EVERY section of the country today, women have marveled at the wonders of a safe, easy reducing method—which requires no strict diet lists; no strenuous exercises; no drugs. Increases energy as weight goes down. It's the identical method Dr. Damrau of New York used in tests among a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed directions implicitly, and was responsible for an average loss in weight of 7 pounds per month.

Unbelievably Easy to Follow

All you do is mix ¾ glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ glass of water and drink before meals and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—which means you avoid overeating; thus reducing caloric intake considerably. Then this happens: First, this delicious drink satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to overeat fattening foods—but you never suffer a hungry moment. Second, the natural dextrose in Welch's is quickly consumed, and by this process not only aids nature in consuming excess fat but also increases your energy.

That is why weight is lost naturally; why you not only look better but actually feel better; have more energy. And this proved method is just as beneficial and effective for overweight men, as it is for overweight women.

Do This One Important Thing!

Be sure to use only genuine Welch's Grape Juice, selected by Dr. Damrau in his convincing test. Welch's is always full strength. It contains full measure of natural dextrose which is so important. And because Welch's is always full strength, it is delicious when diluted—very economical to use. Start this proved reducing method today and watch your energy go up as your weight goes down.

Sensational Facts About Amazing Welch Way to Reduce

Dr. Frederic Damrau of New York made a revealing test on a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed his instructions implicitly. By following this simple, pleasant Welch Way to reduce, these people lost an average of 7 pounds per month. Chart at left shows actual weight loss registered. Sworn statement below verifies all claims made for this reducing method.

SWORN STATEMENT

"I hereby certify that I have interviewed Dr. Frederic Damrau of 247 Park Avenue, New York, with reference to the Welch reducing test conducted under his supervision. I have also reviewed his scientific records and case reports. To the best of my knowledge and belief, based on the accuracy of Dr. Damrau's records and statements, the facts concerning this reducing test and the chart of average weight reductions are substantially correct." Half at War—Half Asleep

(AN EDITORIAL)

From The New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times, Mercury

By BASIL BREWER, Publisher

While trusting nations crash in all parts of the earth, fools in America proclaim for Americans an idyllic safety, a fool's paradise.

As if we, Americans, were set apart as God's chosen people, while justice, truth and religion topple over the remainder of the earth.

A titanic Satan, Hitler, strides, curses truth, hope and God—embraces falsehood, spits at character—threatens, with promise of success, to conquer and destroy the earth.

American Industry, a sluggish giant, strives to rouse itself to the vast needs of defense.

But the parasites of class-consciousness, internecine labor quarrels and Communistic sabotage, suck at the body of the American Industrial giant.

WE ARE ENTIRELY UN-NEUTRAL, as we strive to help OUR SIDE in the war.

But we neither are IN nor OUT of the war.

WE ARE HALF AT WAR AND HALF ASLEEP.

WE SLEEP NOW—as the CRISIS of the war approaches, the crisis of the existence of the civilized world, the crisis of the existence of the people of America as a free people.

HITLER TAKES ON RUSSIA.

Russia, Communist Russia, crooked or depraved or whatever she may be—

IS FIGHTING OUR ENEMY, THE INSANE, GIANT, HITLER.

HITLER IS THE ONLY ONE WE HAVE TO FEAR.

But the prophets of appeasement proclaim "we must not help Communism"—and bid us to further and deeper sleep.

SLEEP UNTIL WHEN?

UNTIL HITLER HAS FINISHED RUSSIA AND FACES BRITAIN AND AMERICA ALONE—

WITH THE GREATEST ARMY THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN?

Awake, America, the hour of sophistry and sleep is past!

WE MUST FIGHT NOW!

We fight—

NOT for Russia and Communism.

NOT for Britain.

NOT ONE DROP OF SOLDIER'S BLOOD IS WORTH SHEDDING FOR A SINGLE ONE OF THESE.

FOR OURSELVES AND FOR OURSELVES ONLY.

We fight for the preservation of our liberty—for the right to rule ourselves, in our chosen way.

Our government in America, its virtues, ITS VERY SINS shall FOREVER BE OUR OWN.

FOR THIS we fight.

For this IS WORTH fighting for.

Are we better than those who died with Washington, Lincoln and Wilson?

LET US FIGHT NOW — WHILE THERE IS TIME — WHILE THERE IS HELP—be it Communistic, British, or Chinese.

WE CANNOT AFFORD TO HAVE RUSSIA BEATEN.

BECAUSE THIS WILL BRING DEFEAT ONE STEP NEARER TO OURSELVES.

SEND SHIPS, PLANES, SUPPLIES—TO BRITAIN.

GET THEM THERE NOW—WITH OR WITHOUT SHOOTING.

WHY HAVE WE BUILDED THE WORLD'S GREATEST NAVY—IF NOT TO DEFEND THE EXISTENCE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA?

ENCOURAGE BRITAIN NOW with everything we have and can get to her.

SAY IT WITH PLANES AND BOMBS, FOR ONCE—NOT WITH "CHEERING WORDS."

HELP BRITAIN TO BLAST HITLER WHILE THE BLASTING IS GOOD.

DO THIS—not because we like Britain nor love nor hate Russia.

DO IT BECAUSE WE LOVE OURSELVES AND OUR LIBERTY—and because, for once in spite of the appeasers,—

WE ARE REALLY SMART.

THIS OPPORTUNITY WILL NOT LAST.

IF WE DO NOT EMBRACE IT—AMERICA ITSELF MAY NOT LAST.

PLUNGE THAT WASN'T FOOLS 1936 ALL-STARS

Clark Reveals How Lions Gained Tie.

BY EARL (DUTCH) CLARK.

Cleveland, O., July 16.—All football teams have their favorite trick plays. The Detroit Lions, representatives of the National Football league in the 1936 Chicago All-Star game, resorted to their pet maneuver in the fourth quarter against the College All-Stars. The perfect success of our play was a big factor in many of our league games, but when it clicked that night in Soldiers' field it saved us from defeat and enabled the Lions to gain a tie, 7 to 7, the second deadlock in All-Star history.

The tricks of all magicians appear simple after they are revealed. Well, our play is simple, too, but with nothing up our sleeves and our water boy holding only a rabbit's foot we have worked it successfully at many critical moments. The All-Stars were sadly disappointed and dazed after our play was completed, but there was no reason to become disillusioned for failure to stop it.

A Variation of Nagurski Stunt.

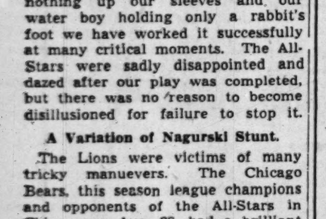
The Lions were victims of many tricky manuevers. The Chicago Bears, this season league champions and opponents of the All-Stars in Chicago on Aug. 28, had a brilliant play involving their powerful full back, Bronko Nagurski. The former Minnesota star, always a great line smasher, used to fake a line plunge, then hesitate behind the center, straighten up and toss a pass over the scrimmage line. Our play also was a fake line plunge. Bronko threw the ball forward. We tossed it backward.

There were more than 76,000 in Chicago's lake front arena that night when the Lions played the All-Stars, who had as their head coach Bernie Bierman of Minnesota. On the playing field were the 11 All-Stars and the Lions. But only two men knew what play was going to be attempted in those fleeting minutes of the last period with the collegians leading, 7 to 0. Ernie Caddel, Lions' right half back, was one. I was the other. In the huddle the nine other members of the Lions believed I was to take the ball thru right tackle.

Play Demands Perfection.

The play demanded perfect timing and blocking, and above all perfect faking. Caddel and I knew the blocking and the faking would be more effective if our teammates were under the impression they were working on another play. I had made several short gains previously in the game on the regular plunge. However, Caddel and I decided to open up the Lions' bag of tricks. Ernie took his place in the back field behind our right end. It was fourth down on the All-Stars' 10 yard line.

There were many in the huge crowd who began to think about the exits and an All-Star victory on Babe Le Voir's touchdown in the second period. The signals were barked out into the cool night air. I received the ball, took two steps to the right and then drove inside the defensive right tackle. On reaching the line of scrimmage I flipped a blind backward pass and continued a headlong plunge into the line to preserve the fake. I closed my eyes momentarily, hoping I had lobbed the pass high enough to give Caddel a chance to get it. I had, fortunately. Ernie easily got outside the defensive right end and was away for the touchdown. Here's how the play worked:



One More Big Moment.

However, there was one more big moment in the game for me. I had the job of kicking the extra point. I received many thrills in kicking field goals and extra points from the time of my high school days and later for the University of Colorado, Portsmouth Spartans, and the Lions. I couldn't fail that night in Soldiers' field. I got a perfect pass from our center, Clare Randolph, drop kicked and the ball sailed between the uprights, giving Detroit a 7 to 7 tie.

I would rate those minutes as a perfect climax to my career with the Lions. Now as coach of the Cleveland Rams I sit on the bench and watch my boys attempt those thrilling deceptive plays. I'll be in Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 28 waiting eagerly for the Bears and the All-Stars to execute them.

GHEZZI, WOOD TEE OFF IN CHICAGO OPEN TOMORROW

National, PGA Winners Entered at Elmhurst.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The National Open and Professional Golf tournaments of this 1941 season were decided far from these parts, but tomorrow the heroes of both will be part and parcel of Chicago galleries' interest, when the fourth annual $5,000 show conducted by the Chicago District Golf association begins over the elegantly revamped premises of the Elmhurst Country club.

Local members of the bunion brigade will be able to follow the winners of both of these No. 1 nationals, Victor Ghezzi, the tall Deal, N. J., Italian who last Sunday won the PGA's 38 hole thriller from Champion Byron Nelson in Denver, landed by train yesterday morning in time to attend the annual luncheon in the La Salle hotel, given by the Chicago Association of Commerce in connection with the tournament.

Wood Comes by Plane.

Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., arrived by plane late last night from Pittsburgh. Wood's 1941 record is one of the happiest stories golf ever has seen, for the handsome blond from New York's famed Winged Foot club already holds the valued National Open and Masters' crowns for this semester.

Naturally, this Chicago Open is not a two-man gathering. Consider the presence of the three former winners of the championship—Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead, and Dick Metz, the last named being the current titleholder. Add to these the name of Ben Hogan, the 140 pound walloper who won the Vardon trophy in 1940 and led all money earners last year [not to mention that he is in front in both departments this year].

Add Shute, Little, Mangrum.

Take Denny Shute, runner-up to Wood in the Open's stirring finish at Fort Worth. And don't overlook Lawson Little, only American and British amateur double winner in history and victor in last year's National Open. Watch out for Lloyd Mangrum, the slender Texan who put out Medalist Snead in the PGA and then took Winner Ghezzi to the 36th green of the semi-finals.

The pairings for the outstanding performers in the tournament for tomorrow and Saturday, which were arranged yesterday by CDGA tournament officials and Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the PGA, follow:

9:01 a. m. and 1:13 p. m.—Ralph Guldahl, John Fischer and a partner to be named.

9:15 a. m. and 1:27 p. m.—Lloyd Mangrum, Walter Burkemo, and Al Watrous.

9:22 a. m. and 1:34 p. m.—Billy Burke, Pat Sawyer, and Hank Bowbeer.

9:29 a. m. and 1:41 p. m.—Clayton Heafner, Harold Foreman Jr., and Vaughan Spalding.

9:43 a. m. and 1:55 p. m.—Horton Smith, Jim Frisina, and Mario Gonzalez.

9:57 a. m. and 2:09 p. m.—Jim Foulis, Charley Penna, and William Nikodem.

10:04 a. m. and 2:16 p. m.—Craig Wood, Denny Shute, and George Dawson.

10:11 a. m. and 2:23 p. m.—Harry Cooper, Jimmy Hines, and John Barnum.

10:18 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.—Victor Ghezzi, Jim Ferrier, and Chick Evans.

10:46 a. m. and 2:58 p. m.—Ben Hogan, Harry Adams, and Willie Turnesa.

11 a. m. and 3:12 p. m.—Sam Snead, Tommy Armour, and John Lehman.

1:27 p. m. and 9:15 a. m.—Ernie Harrison, Bill Mehlhorn, and Bob Cochran.

2:23 p. m. and 10:11 a. m.—Lawson Little, John David, and Art Doering.

2:30 p. m. and 10:18 a. m.—Tony Penna, John Armour, and Bill Kaiser.

2:37 p. m. and 10:25 a. m.—Jimmy Thomson, George Reed, and Leo Mallory.

2:51 p. m. and 10:39 a. m.—Johnny Bulla, Gus Moreland, and Tom Sheehan.

2:58 p. m. and 10:46 a. m.—Johnny Revolta, Ellsworth Vines, and Dr. Walter Ratto.

The total field of more than 200 will play 36 holes, 18 tomorrow and 18 Saturday, to discover which 48 professionals and ties and 24 amateurs and ties will qualify for Sunday's stretch run of 36 holes. The professional prize list is headed by three cash awards of $1,200, $750, and $550.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

CRAIG WOOD, National Open champion, rates Marvin [Bud] Ward the best competitor among the nation's amateur golfers, and Willie Turnesa the most technically perfect. . . . Tony Ruffa, Duke university's star tackle, who is a prominent candidate for a starting position with the College All-Americans against the Chicago Bears Aug. 28, is an accomplished place kicker. . . . His place kick in the Rose bowl three years ago would have given Duke a victory had it not been for the last minute drive of Southern California. . . . The White Sox, who attempt to make up in speed what they lack in hitting power, have worked a triple steal twice this season. . . . The University of Wisconsin badger is standing up at last. . . . For more than 50 years the insignia the university has used to illustrate its nickname has been a picture of a badger in crouching position as if about to pounce on an unwary foe. . . . The new promotion posters show the badger rearing up on its hind legs and holding aloft a bar of music on which is written, "On, Wisconsin." . . . Robert Ortiz, the Cuban who started as a pitcher with the Washington Senators, now is rated the club's best minor league outfield prospect. . . . One of the complaints made against Jimmy Dykes by President Will Harridge in suspending the Sox skipper was that Jimmy's tactics delayed games to the point of boredom. . . . On this basis Jimmy's face was a bit red when the Sox and Senators reeled off a game last Friday in 1 hour and 39 minutes—with Dykes banished and harmless in the stands. . . .

When Ted Williams knocked his victory homer in the All-Star game at Detroit, Charley Dunkley, Chicago AP sports editor, was in the Nationals' clubhouse writing a eulogy of Arky Vaughan and waiting for the victorious Nationals to bust in. . . . When he heard over a radio that Williams had turned the picture upside down, he ran, panting merrily, to the Americans' clubhouse, where he started a new piece about Williams. . . . Frank Kopczak, former Notre Dame tackle, who prepped at Chicago's Harrison Tech with Andy Pilney, will coach football and basketball and head the physical education department of the William Cullen McBride High school in St. Louis this fall. . . . He was assistant at Washington university for four years. . . . Bronko Nagurski owns a 700 acre farm near International Falls, Minn. . . . Mrs. Lorraine Cellmer, playing her first round of golf, swung her brassie with great gusto on the eighth hole of the Tippecanoe Lake Country club near Leesburg, Ind., the other day. . . . The ball traveled only 50 yards and at the end of a beautiful slice landed smack in the left side pants pocket of Harry Griffith, who was looking for his ball in the rough. . . . If you doubt it, Griffith can show you the black and blue spot on his hip.

Incident At Memphis.

Soldier boy, eyes straight ahead,
This isn't dear old Main street
Back home in Kasketow;
Nor is it Ashtabula,
Kalamazoo or kindred ports,
So pull in your girth, restrain your mirth,
When you're passing girls in shorts.

Soldier boy, it's looking like
Your eyes must never ramble
When lassies keen on the village green
Cavort or golf or gambol;
This isn't good old Eighth and Main,
So ixnay on the snorts,
Just meander, never gander,
At the little girls in shorts.

Soldier boy, you know full well
What Gen. Sherman said,
But, alas, it's true, and so must you
Tho hellzapoppin, 'mongst yourselves

ROOT HITS HOMER BEFORE PHILLIES ROUT HIM IN 7TH

Vet Wins 198th Game; Pressnell, Olsen Finish.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 16.—Charley Root attained his 198th National league victory and the Cubs ended a four game losing streak under the Shibe park lights tonight. The 42 year old pitcher couldn't hang on to the finish, however, and before it all ended, Vern [Lefty] Olsen had to rush to the aid of Rescuer Tot Pressnell to convince the eighth place Phillies that they might as well surrender the series opener by 9 to 5.

After four lean struggles at Brooklyn in which they produced only five runs, four of them in one game, Jimmy Wilson's ensemble bounced forth with an amazing punch. They drove out a dozen hits, half of which were for extra bases. The choicest hits were a homer by Root and one by Clyde McCullough with two on in the third, which gave Root a three run lead after an advantage of similar size had been wiped out.

Chase Rookie in Hurry.

The first worthy act performed by the Cubs was to rid themselves of Rookie Tom Hughes, who has been troublesome on a couple of occasions. Bill Nicholson helped in this by driving in two runs with a double in the first inning, his first batting achievement in many days. Root finished Hughes with his homer in the second, but the old timer was lambasted for the tying runs in the same inning.

Having shaken off the Hughes menace, the Cubs found Rufus Melton opposing them in the third. They lost no time nicking him for the second three run lead, due to McCullough's homer with Augie Galan and Don Dallesandro on base. Augie had doubled and Don had walked. Rufus quit after a little more trouble in the fifth. Then Cy Blanton and Frank [Lefty] Hoerst divided the last four innings, yielding a run apiece.

Olsen Rescues Pressnell.

Root hung on until the seventh, when with the bases filled and one Phil already home, Pressnell was summoned. He mopped up in a hurry, but when Nick Etten opened the eighth with a pass and and Chuck Klein singled, Manager Wilson decided to lead with his southpaw ace, Olsen. Vern yielded only one hit in two complete innings.

South Wins Texas League All-Star Game, 2 to 0

Beaumont, Tex., July 16 (AP).—For the fourth time in six years the South defeated the North in the Texas league All-Star game today, 2 to 0.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox made three singles in a row for a run after two were out in the first inning against the Boston Red Sox in Comiskey park yesterday. Then every Chicagoan except Pitcher Bucky Ross folded up, the Red Sox scored an unearned run in the eighth to tie the score and tallied again in the ninth for a 2 to 1 victory.

The White Sox did not make a hit from the first inning till the ninth and there wasn't a putout by a Boston outfielder until the eighth inning and only two in the entire game.

Manager James Dykes gave his lineup a big shuffle for the game in a vain hope of finding a combination with some punch. His reward was the fifth loss in six games and a four single attack on a fellow named Cecil [Tex] Hughson, recently recalled from Louisville. Yesterday's flop leveled the Chicagoans to an even .500 in the American league standings.

Solters Drives In Run.

After Bill Knickerbocker and Luke Appling had supplied infield outs at the start of the Chicago offensive Joe Kuhel singled to right and went to third on Taft Wright's single to right. Julius Solters then beat out a hit to Bobby Doerr, Kuhel scoring.

Tho this proved to be the White Sox attack for the day, they had several chances to fatten their 1 to 0 lead, notably in the fifth, when Hughson issued three passes, and in the seventh, when Mike Tresh, first up, was safe on Joe Cronin's error.

Despite Chicago's helplessness with the wood, Ross was leading, 1 to 0, going into the eighth. Johnny Peacock, first up, sent an easy bouncer to Appling, who made a wild throw to first. Frank Pytlak ran for Peacock and Hughson moved him up with a sacrifice. Pytlak, who had taken third on a wild pitch, scored when the injured Ted Williams batted for Skeeter Newsome and flied out.

Walks—Scores Winning Run.

Stan Spence walked at the start of the ninth and advanced on Cronin's sacrifice. Jimmy Foxx was given an intentional pass. Doerr singled to center, the fifth and last hit off Ross, scoring Spence with the winning run. Dom DiMaggio grounded to Bob Kennedy who stepped on third to force Foxx, then threw the ball on the wing into the boxes. Ground rules governing a ball thrown or batted out of the field stopped Doerr's advance at third and DiMaggio had to stop at second. Pytlak then was passed and Hughson forced him.

Mike Kreevich opened the home ninth with a single, but was stranded on second when two pinch hitters failed.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Calumet farm folks can go right on celebrating. They were just coming back to earth following their one-two-three sweep of last Saturday's $49,000 Arlington Futurity when Whirlaway followed up with his excellent performance in winning the $5,000 Classic trial on Tuesday. A letdown might have been expected yesterday—but no such thing happened. For Proud One, Calumet's candidate for honors among the 3 year old fillies, came galloping right on home in Arlington Park's $2,500 Cinderella stakes.

Thus within a space of four racing days Warren Wright's horses have demonstrated their superiority in three of the major divisions of thoroughbred competition. The fact that Proud One had previously won the Acorn stakes at Belmont indicated that yesterday's effort was no mere flash of brilliance.

Eads Rides Winner.

Jockey Wendell Eads, who had ridden Sun Again to victory in the Futurity and Whirlaway in the Derby trial, brought Proud One in a length and a half in advance of the seasoned campaigner, Montsin, owned by Hyman Friedberg of Louisville. Mrs. John Marsch's filly, Blue Delight, was third.

Great Occasion, a juvenile filly making the first start of her career figured in an unusual betting setup in the first race. Despite her lack of racing experience, she was the object of a wagering plunge that established her as the 8 to 5 second choice. The Milky Way farm's Furenuf was the even money favorite, and the others ranged from 9 to 1 on Gold Coin Miss to 134 to 1 on Valdina Flare.

O Play Beats Favorite.

As things worked out, the first starter, Great Occasion, came right on home to win by five lengths in this five and a half furlong dash while the longest shot on the board, Valdina Flare, was saving second place from Gold Coin Miss by the margin of a neck. Meanwhile, the favorite, Furenuf, weakened after making a strong bid and finished sixth. Valdina Flare's place and show prices were $75.60 and $23.40.

O Play, a consistent filly which had won four out of her five previous starts at Lincoln Fields and Arlington, was called upon to show her courage again yesterday. In a hard driving finish she beat the 6 to 5 favorite, Book Plate, by a nose. Aljack was third.

LOUIS EXPLODES NEW BOMBSHELL IN DIVORCE CASE

Friends who have been anticipating a reconciliation between Joe Louis and his wife, the former Marva Trotter, received a rude jolt yesterday when the heavyweight champion inserted a simple "Personal" in a Chicago newspaper disclaiming all responsibility of debts not incurred by himself.

William Temple, the champion's attorney, inserted the ad at Joe's request, thus blasting reports that a reconciliation might be effected.

Mrs. Louis was taken by surprise, but said that the matter would be settled one way or another by Saturday. She also indicated that she would not fight Joe in court, stating that a settlement would be reached with her husband before a decree would be sought.

She denied that the divorce action was a result of Joe's long absences at training camps. In her suit she charges she was the target of some of the champion's unpublicized blows.

WAR RELIC WINS $50,000 RACE; FOXBROUGH 2D

Massachusetts Handicap Attracts 25,000.

Boston, Mass., July 16 (AP).—Samuel D. Riddle's War Relic, a 3 year old son of Man o' War, surprised his owner and most of the 25,000 crowd today by winning the $50,000 added Massachusetts handicap and clipping a fifth of a second off the Suffolk Downs track record for the mile and an eighth.

Lightest burdened in the field of nine, War Relic romped home with three-quarters of a length to spare after fighting off William Woodward's favored Foxbrough in a stirring stretch duel which brought him under the wire in 1:48 3/5.

As Teddy Atkinson, up on the victor, joyously waved his right arm, Royal Man, from H. A. Clark's Tower stable, finished in the show position, about three lengths in back of Foxbrough and two ahead of Louis Tafano's Market Wise.

Swing and Sway, from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable, closed fast to gain the fifth and last slice of New England's largest turf purse. Fenelon, other half of Woodward's Belair stud entry, was sixth and the trailers were Mrs. George Widener's Your Chance, A. J. Sackett's Tola Rose and Mrs. Whitey Abel's Honey Cloud.

War Relic, carrying only 102 pounds, was close on Honey Cloud's heels during early running and assumed command when the latter weakened. Foxbrough, with a 122 pound impost and Johnny Stout up, pulled up from fourth and ran neck and neck with the Man o' War colt until the last 70 yards.

WARNEKE BEATS DODGERS, 7 TO 4, IN RELIEF ROLE

Cards Chase Wyatt; Trail by Three Games.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 16 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals reduced Brooklyn's National league lead to three games tonight by knocking Whit Wyatt off the mound with a five run rally in the sixth inning to beat the Dodgers, 7 to 4. Lon Warneke relieved Max Lanier in the fourth and stopped the Dodgers to receive credit for the victory.

Lon Warneke.

A crowd of 32,265 jammed Ebbets field and cheered Wyatt lustily as he pitched hitless ball for four innings, fanning six men, including Terry Moore, Johnny Hopp and Johnny Mize in succession in the fourth.

Then the Cards went to work. They measured Wyatt with two runs in the fifth and then knocked him flat with five more in the sixth. Newel Kimball and Victor Tamulis held the Cards after that, but Warneke was in runless stride and there was no scoring by either team after the sixth.

IT'S 56 FOR JOE AS YANKS BEAT INDIANS, 10 TO 3

Increase League Lead to Six Games.

Cleveland, O., July 16 (AP).—Joe DiMaggio extended his consecutive hitting streak to 56 games today, and the New York Yankees increased their American league lead to six full games by beating the second place Indians, 10 to 3.

DiMaggio's first inning single off Al Milnar advanced Tommy Henrich from first to third and set the stage for two New York runs. Joe smacked the first pitch on the ground past Milnar and into center field.

Later DiMaggio banged a double and a single as the Yankees added eight more runs. Charley Keller hit his 20th homer in the fourth to break a 2 to 2 deadlock.

Statisticians with the Yankees today made an interesting discovery about DiMaggio. They found that he had not struck out since June 8. None of DiMaggio's nine strikeouts in 84 games this season has come in his last 126 times at bat.

Frustrated Ambition.

I'd like to write a poem, such
As other poets write—
About the thrills and joys of love
Or of a lover's plight.

But should I pen one word of love,
Suspicion rears its head!
And questions by the score I'm asked
By folks who've my lines read.

So I must be content, I guess
To write of simpler things,
And I must still my rhyming heart
When songs of love it sings.

Thus, when you read my little odes
Of unromantic hue,
Just place between those closing lines,
A thwarted "I love you!"

KITTIHAWK, IRIS LEAD YACHTS TO CITY FOR BIG RACE

Craft from Three Lakes to Compete in Mackinac.

A dozen or more of the fastest yachts on Lakes Erie, Huron, and Michigan are due to arrive in Chicago harbors today and tomorrow ready to compete in the Chicago Yacht club's 34th annual Mackinac race, which begins Saturday. Eight of the craft are on their way here from Mackinac Island, Michigan, after competing in the Bayview Yacht club's annual Port Huron-Mackinac race.

Port Huron Winners on Way.

Kittihawk and Iris, the two winners of the Port Huron-Mackinac race, are among the group on the way to enter the Chicago race to the island. Kittihawk, owned by John, Henry, and W. Robert Timken of Canton, O., won the cruising division honors in the Bayview event. The yacht last sailed here in the Chicago-Mackinac race in 1939.

Harry W. Fletcher's 68 foot sloop Iris, from Alpena, Mich., won in the racing division of the Port Huron event. It will be the first 12 meter class sloop to be seen on Lake Michigan. Its closest competition may come from Revenge, the Walliser-Griffin syndicate's 10 meter class cutter which won the Mackinac cup in 1937, and the smaller [50 foot] 8 meter and Q class sloops.

Lively Lady Defends Title.

LIVELY LADY, Otto Dreher's Q class sloop from the South Shore [Milwaukee] Yacht club, defending the Universal division title.

SIREN, Fred Temple's Lake Erie sloop, which won the Mackinac race five times between 1927 and 1933, when it was sailed by L. L. Karas of the Chicago Yacht club.

ROYONO, John B. Ford's new 72 foot cruising yawl from Detroit. Under its former name, Mandoo II., D. Spencer Berger of New London, Conn., sailed it in several ocean races to Bermuda. It is the largest entry in the race.

GLORIANT, Anthony Herrmann's Q class sloop which has represented the Racine Yacht club in the Mackinac race every year since 1937.

White Sox Play Boston Under Lights Tonight

Heber Newsome will pitch for the Boston Red Sox in tonight's game in Comiskey park against the White Sox. He will be opposed by the ace of American league lefties, Thornton Lee.

Ted Williams, American league batting leader, who injured an ankle in Detroit Sunday, was able to go thru batting and fielding drill yesterday, but is not expected to start either tonight or in tomorrow's game, tho he will stand by for pinch batting duty.

A new set of umpires showed up in Comiskey park yesterday.

VANCE PAGE GETS CALL FOR CUBS AGAINST PHILS

When Bill Nicholson doubled in the opening inning tonight, he broke into the hit column for the first time in five games. In the last four at Brooklyn he was blanked in twelve times at bat.

SCIENCE TO TUNE IN ON CRUNCH OF A TERMITE'S JAW

Termites are broadcasting. Most of them don't know it yet, but man has made radio a weapon against their formerly silent sabotage. These blind wood-eating insects cause damage of $40,000,000 a year in the United States and $4,000,000 a year in Chicago.

The only program now offered by the termites is the crunching of millions of termite jaws. When picked up by a special microphone and amplified thousands of times, it sounds like rice being dropped on paper.

Previously the termites could not be heard. And they still can't be seen, because their activities are confined to the interior of timber. Wood in a building, especially pine, suits them fine.

Invented in Michigan.

Charles Veirup, exterminating engineer, with the aid of Jay Atkinson of the Sundt Engineering company, perfected the radio device. It was invented by the inventive Burgesses of Benton Harbor, Mich.—Walter Sr. and Walter Jr.

"The old method of testing for termites was to jab wood with an ice pick, feeling for cavities," Veirup explained. "If you found them you didn't know whether it was due to rot or termites. And you couldn't find them in the early stages of termite destruction.

"Now we can catch up with the termites right away. It means that exterminators don't have to wait until a lot of damage has been done."

Their Weak Points.

The war against termites strikes at their weak points. They must maintain a communication line with the earth, from which the worker class of termites carries moisture back to the colony housed in wood. If this line is cut, they die. They also perish if exposed to light.

Termites avoid creosoted wood. Chemicals are also forced into building timbers thru connections like the grease fittings on automobiles. The earth around buildings to a point below the foundation is impregnated with chemicals.

W-G-N REPORTS RITES GIVING FORD YACHT TO NAVY

The yacht Truant, owned by Henry Ford, was returned to the United States naval service yesterday. Once owned by the naval militia of Chicago, the yacht was commissioned in the morning at the Great Lakes Naval Training station by Rear Admiral John Downes, commandant of the 9th naval district, after it had been leased to the navy by Ford for $1 a year.

Ceremonies in connection with the commissioning were broadcast by W-G-N, which employed its mobile unit for the special feature. Jess Kirkpatrick was the reporter.

The Truant, a steam powered vessel 138 feet long with a beam of 17 feet and a cruising radius of 2,500 miles, arrived early yesterday from Detroit, Mich., after an overnight stop at Kenosha, Wis., where Lieut. S. A. McCornock, its new skipper, was taken aboard.

The commissioning took place on the quarterdeck with the station band, marine guard, officers and guests, and two companies of recruits assembled on the breakwater. The Truant, built in 1892, was once owned by Truman Newberry, secretary of the navy under Theodore Roosevelt. Later it was owned by Samuel Insull.

EDITH M'CORMICK ESTATE PARCEL IS ORDERED SOLD

Probate Judge John F. O'Connell yesterday directed the Chicago Title and Trust company, executors of the estate of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, to sell 58 of the 253 acres of her Villa Turricum estate in Lake Forest to the city of Lake Forest as a bird, tree, and wild flower preserve and city park. The park site is the southeastern segment of the estate, lying on the lake front and heavily wooded, with a ravine running thru it.

The court was told that the trust company plans to bid in the entire estate at a Lake county tax foreclosure sale in October. There is $317,125 in delinquent taxes, penalties, and costs from 1931 to 1939 owing on the property. After the estate is redeemed, the trust company will sell the 58 acres for the park site at a price to be agreed on with Lake Forest.

Officials of the trust company said the remaining 195 acres will be subdivided for residential home sites of from one to 10 acres.

REV. C. R. ROSS OF MORGAN PARK CHURCH IS DEAD

The Rev. Charles R. Ross, pastor of Morgan Park Methodist church, 110th street and Longwood drive, died suddenly in his home, 10920 South Hoyne avenue, yesterday. He was 64 years old.

He was a graduate of Mount Union college and Drew seminary and held a doctor of philosophy degree from New York university. Among his former pastorates were churches in Newtonville, Mass., Utica, N. GUNNS TO TACKLE A MARITAL MIXUP ON W-G-N TONIGHT

The Great Gunns have left Hollywood, and in their broadcast over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system at 9:30 o'clock tohight they will unfurl further flights of fancy and temperament from their Long Island home.

Buster Gunn, played by Bob Jellison, gives Christopher and Veronica, played by Bret Morrison and Barbara Luddy, an awful shock by interrupting their plans for celebrating the 50th anniversary of Pop [Phil Lord] on the stage with the announcement that he [Buster] is planning to marry a farmer's daughter. It has been a tradition with the Gunns for five generations that none of them marries outside the theater.

Finally Chris hits upon the scheme of journeying to Michigan, where the farmer's daughter lives, and converting her to the theater. Chris has in mind joining a stock company in Michigan. Summer stock actually is affecting the Gunns tonight. John Goldsworthy, who usually plays the rôle of Gloomy, the butler, is playing in a summer stock company at Charlevoix, Mich. The part will be taken tonight by Marvin Mueller. Other parts are taken by Donna Reade and Herb Butterfield. William A. Bacher is the producer.

Phone Service Withdrawn from 6 Alleged Handbooks

The Illinois Bell Telephone company filed a communication in the Circuit court at Belleville, Ill., yesterday announcing that it had complied with an order of Attorney General George F. Barrett to cease furnishing service to the Gym club at 215 North La Salle street and five other alleged handbooks. Barrett has sued to enjoin the operation of hundreds of gambling resorts in all parts of the state.

SEEK PRIORITY FOR U. S. AGENCIES ON RADIO LANES

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Asserting that many stations cannot meet the demands of government defense agencies for radio time, the defense committee of the National Association of Broadcasters today recommended that stations give priority to programs in this order:

1. Enlistment of man power for the armed services and national defense industries.
2. Defense financing, such as the sale of defense bonds.
3. Morale building.
4. Activities of government agencies not primarily connected with national defense.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10¢ and 25¢.

POWER PLANTS COSTING BILLION DOLLARS URGED

Olds Visions Bigger Outlay for Arms.

All Records Broken

Production of electricity in the United States reached another historic peak last week of 3,141,158,000 kilowatt hours, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Output totaled 2,866,865,000 kilowatt hours in the preceding week and 2,651,626,000 in the corresponding week last year.

Electricity output of the Commonwealth Edison group of companies aggregated 143,239,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 132,294,000 the week before and 127,248,000 last year.

The week's national average gain over 1940 was 9.6 per cent. The Chicago increase was 12.6 per cent.

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Foreseeing armament expenditures on the scale of 3 billion dollars a month by 1943, the federal power commission today proposed to President Roosevelt a vast electric power expansion to keep the wheels whirling.

Leland Olds.

The program, calling for the expenditure of about a billion dollars, would be undertaken over a five year period to add approximately 13½ million kilowatts to the country's present capacity of about 42 million kilowatts, exclusive of 6,361,00 kilowatts to be produced by new generating units now on order.

The Reconstruction Finance corporation would be required to advance "not exceeding 150 to 200 million dollars a year" to private and public utilities, on a self-liquidating basis, to help finance the expansion.

"There is no question about this investment being self-liquidating," the commission said, "as all the proposed units would be installed in the normal course of events."

Olds Estimates Costs.

"The total investment in steam stations will average 75 to 100 million dollars a year in addition to the cost of the generator units," said Leland Olds, commission chairman. "This investment may be expected to come largely from private sources.

"The total investment in hydro projects, including dams, reservoirs, and power houses, but exclusive of the cost of generating units will average 170 million dollars a year, of which more than one-third will be allocable to flood control, navigation, and other benefits."

Olds, who previously had predicted a power shortage in the rearmament production effort on the basis of present capacity, outlined the commission's plan as follows:

1. Orders should be prepared for steam and hydroturbine generators sufficient to assure for the next five years continuous capacity operation of the factories. Financial commitments should be made immediately.

Smooth Priority Plans.

2. The resulting annual production of approximately 2½ million kilowatts of new steam, and a million kilowatts of new hydrogenerating station units will make possible orderly priority arrangements.

3. The orders should be based on the commission's detailed program for the location of new capacity.

4. Responsibility for placing and financing these orders should be assumed by the government thru a subsidiary financed by the RFC. Utilities should be given an opportunity to undertake the commitment, either directly or on a lease purchase basis, for their own units.

5. United States' engineers, the bureau of reclamation, the Tennessee Valley authority, and other agencies concerned should construct a series of river basin projects, calling for installation of approximately 1,000,800 kilowatts a year.

TEN NEW ILLINOIS PLANTS.

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP). —The billion dollar expansion of power plants recommended today includes 10 new generating units for Illinois capable of producing 780,000 kilowatts of power.

Powerton plant, 150,000 kilowatts, to be completed in 1944; Northwest plant, 80,000 kilowatts, 1945; State Line plant, 150,000 kilowatts, 1945; Crawford plant, 80,000 kilowatts in 1945, and another 80,000 in 1946.

Five plants would be built in other parts of the state for the Moline-Rock Island Manufacturing company, Union Electric company of Missouri [plant at Venice, Ill.], and the Central Illinois Public Service company.

Coca-Cola International Stock Sale First in 3 Years

New York, July 16 (AP).—For the first time in more than three years a sale of stock of the Coca-Cola International corporation was made on the New York Stock exchange. An odd lot, 20 shares, sold at $740, down $116.25 from the last sale May 5, 1938, at $976. A total of $119.75 in dividends was declared in the interim. The company is a holding concern for stock of the Coca-Cola company.

No More New Aluminum for Civil Use-OPM

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Confirming earlier reports that there is no more new aluminum available for civilian use, the Office of Production Management today also castigated a recent statement of the National Association of Manufacturers that there is plenty of aluminum for armament purposes.

A joint statement from the directors general of the OPM, William S. Knudsen, and Sidney Hillman, declared that a shortage is foreseen in fabricated aluminum parts for armament needs. Direct and indirect armament demands will consume the entire virgin and secondary aluminum production of an estimated 400 million pounds during the remainder of 1941, they said.

The NAM statement on Monday said that a survey of 20 armament centers indicated there was no shortage of aluminum for armament work but didn't guarantee that such a shortage would not develop.

Raps "False Implication."

Without mentioning the manufacturers' group, the OPM announcement asserted that such statements carry a "false implication" which "can only result in harm to the defense program." The OPM on Monday announced a plan for five companies to operate seven new aluminum plants for the government, aimed at increasing production by about 600 million pounds annually. The OPM said today the facts on the aluminum situation are:

"Direct military demands for aluminum from July 1 thru Dec. 31 are estimated at 344 million pounds. This does not take into account indirect military requirements, which will probably take an additional 50 to 60 million pounds, making a probable total requirement of approximately 400 million pounds.

"Production of virgin aluminum ingots, according to estimates furnished by the producers, will amount to 327 million pounds.

Secondary Metal Limited.

"Ingots estimated to be produced from secondary metal may bring the total available for all purposes to 400 million pounds, tho the secondary metal cannot be used widely for direct military requirements.

"These figures clearly show not only that there will be no new aluminum available for civilian use, but there is and will be an urgent problem involved in supplying enough fabricated aluminum parts at the places they are needed when they are needed for defense production alone.

"There is at this moment a severe shortage of scrap aluminum for remelting. To make every pound of aluminum available to defense, the Office of Production Management, in coöperation with the Office of Civilian Defense, is asking citizens to contribute old aluminum articles between July 21 and July 27. Such aluminum is always useful in certain indirect military uses."

Alcoa Attacked Again.

Meanwhile, another crack was taken at the Aluminum Company of America, one of the government's favorite targets. Representatives Overton Brooks [D., La.] and John J. Sparkman [D., Ala.], in a minority report of the house military affairs subcommittee investigating the arms program, charged that Alcoa had exhibited a "shortsighted, monopolistic" policy toward the nation's aluminum needs.

The majority committee report recently gave the company credit for 100 per cent coöperation in the armament program.

CIO PROPOSES BOOST

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, submitted to President Roosevelt today a plan to increase aluminum production by a billion pounds a year.

The CIO idea in brief contemplates the immediate creation of a joint management-labor council for the aluminum industry to supervise the execution of a program calling for:

1. Construction of aluminum plants with a production capacity of a billion pounds.

2. Expansion of the Arkansas mining properties producing bauxite from which aluminum is made; accumulation of stock piles of South American bauxite.

3. Rationing of nonmilitary uses of power and the construction of steam generating facilities to supply the power needed in the production of a billion pounds of aluminum.

4. Training of a labor force under auspices of the Aluminum Workers of America for operation of the new plants.

AFL Proposes Cure for Arms Job Disruption

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP). —The American Federation of Labor proposed today a five-point plan to check unemployment resulting from the shift, thru priorities, of materials from civilian to armament production.

In a letter to Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, AFL President William Green suggested:

1. A complete analysis of affected plants to determine how they may be used for arms production.

2. Preferential clearance for military contracts with these plants.

3. Make it clear to their managements that unless they give full cooperation in the shift-over the plants "will be placed at the disposal of the federal government."

4. Where arms employment is available because of plant or production expansion in other industries in the community, intensive programs of apprenticeship and vocational training should be inaugurated to fit local labor to the new jobs.

5. Steps to assure workers whose employment is interrupted by priorities that they would retain seniority, occupational classification, and basic wages when they return to their normal jobs.

STRIKE DEVELOPMENTS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Repair work on nine merchant vessels was halted yesterday when 2,000 American Federation of Labor workers walked off their jobs at the Todd Galveston Dry Docks, Inc., Galveston, Tex. The men struck after the union and the company were unable to reach an understanding based on a master shipyards agreement.

Washington, D. C., mediators announced their inability to settle a dispute between the Western Cartridge company, Alton, Ill., and an AFL union representing 550 workers in the company's smokeless powder division.

Postpone Threatened Strike.

However, the defense mediation board said the union had agreed to postpone a threatened strike until the board could make further recommendations. The AFL chemical workers' union has been asking wage increases. The plant holds government ammunition orders totaling 8 million dollars.

Fist fighting between rival CIO and AFL unions marked a shutdown of operations at the Patterson-Leitch steel fabricating plant in Cleveland. The AFL structural iron workers' union has a contract with the company, but the CIO warehousemen's union has challenged its representation as a collective bargaining agency and has asked for a National Labor Relations board election.

NORTH AMERICAN CAR CALLS VOTE ON STOCK CHANGE

Stockholders of the North American Car corporation were notified yesterday that a special meeting will be held at the company's offices, 327 South La Salle street, Aug. 5, to vote on a merger plan that would result, thru recapitalization, in wiping out arrears of $46.50 a share on the preferred stock. Gen. R. E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., recently won a fight to get control of North American Car when he brought about the election of William M. Spencer as chairman of the board.

The present management also proposes merger of the parent company with a wholly owned subsidiary, the Palace Poultry Car company.

Under the plan, holders would receive for each first preferred share of North American one share of $100 par new 6 per cent cumulative preferred, one fifth share of new 5 per cent $100 par noncumulative preferred, one share of common stock, $10 par, and $8 in cash.

STUDEBAKER BEGINS DELIVERIES OF NEW TYPE ARMY TRUCKS

The Studebaker corporation has begun deliveries of new type troop and supply trucks, designed to form the backbone of a system to give the army top mobility, officials announced yesterday.

Altho army sources withheld information on the number of trucks on order and the rate of production, it was disclosed that 15 or 16 million dollars' worth will be supplied. A separate assembly line is being installed in the corporation's South Bend, Ind., plant to speed production.

The trucks are of 2½ ton capacity and are designed to carry troops, equipment, and supplies swiftly over difficult terrain. They are powered by six cylinder engines and are of a six wheel drive type with three drive shafts geared separately to each of the three pairs of wheels.

Produce Cars Beyond End of '41 Model Year

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—The end of July marks the theoretical termination of the automobile industry's 1941 model year, but some 1941 model cars still will roll off assembly lines during early August.

At least one company, reporting itself far behind in the filling of orders, has made tentative plans to continue assemblies for at least the first two weeks of next month.

Because of buyers' sustained demands, the industry will assemble nearly 400,000 cars and trucks this month.

Cut Effective Aug. 1.

When the Office of Production Management announced its initial production curtailment edict it made it effective as of Aug. 1, when a majority of manufacturers would have completed 1941 model output. Thus any company producing 1941 models after Aug. 1 still will have to figure them as part of the output of the curtailed production period.

There may be no further edicts from the OPM on production volume, but there will be considerably more than the 20.15 per cent reduction covered in the order of several weeks ago.

Priorities to Curb Volume.

Producers believe the additional cut from this year's indicated 5,200,000 unit production will be implemented thru priorities on materials needed for passenger car and truck manufacture.

Despite the industry's lack of new machine tools for passenger car production the engineers have made some startling alterations in 1942 model styling. New sweeping lines characterize most of them, with fenders tapering off into front door panels in some instances.

N. Y. CURB EXCHANGE PLANS RETIREMENT OF 50 MEMBERSHIPS

New York, July 16 [Special].—Members of the New York Curb exchange were asked today by the board of governors to approve constitutional changes permitting the purchase and retirement of 50 of the 550 exchange memberships at prices not to exceed $1,000 each. The exchange itself would bear half the cost.

Purchases would be financed by increases in dues and by assessments. It was said that dues would have to be raised because the reduction in memberships would mean a loss of revenues.

Many members have expressed the opinion that the supply of seats considerably exceeds the demand and that reductions would bring about a return to balance.

RAILS INDICTED FOR CREDITS TO SOME SHIPPERS

Elkins Act Violation Charged by U. S.

Violation of the Elkins act—prohibiting the granting of concessions to shippers—was charged yesterday in federal indictments against three railroads, one shipping line representative of a railroad, and a number of individuals and produce companies. They were charged with giving or receiving illegal credits. The indictments were returned by the federal grand jury before Judge William H. Holly.

Railroads indicted were the Alton, Burlington, and Illinois Central. The Pacific Fruit Express company was accused as agent for the Southern Pacific railroad.

Others named were: Norman B. Pitcairn and Frank C. Nicodemus Jr., receivers; Sidney King, freight traffic manager, and Arthur Walton, assistant freight traffic manager, all of the Wabash railway; Guy A. Thompson, trustee of the Missouri Pacific; W. H. Haywood, freight traffic manager for the Illinois Central; Samuel Visse and the Visse Distributing company; Gerstein & Co. and Louis A. Gerstein, its president, and William Chesky, operating as the Pioneer Fruit and Commission company.

Worked on Rail Credit.

District Attorney J. Albert Woll said the railroads and their officials had granted the commission men long term credits as a result of which the favored commission men were able to do business virtually on railroad credit. The indictments followed a year's investigation by the interstate commerce commission.

The total amount of credit granted, according to the indictment, was $38,853 divided as follows to railroads or officials of the roads; Illinois Central, $9,552; Wabash, $9,613; Southern Pacific, $3,504; Burlington, $6,253; Alton, $4,135; and Missouri Pacific, $5,796.

An attorney for one of the railroads named said that this was one case where the railroads did not object to indictment. The practices of which the government complains, he explained, developed years ago when commission men asked for and got credits in connection with the movement of produce. Nearly all railroads have done this, he said.

How Practice Developed.

As an instance, a commission man receiving a shipment of lettuce would tell a railroad representative that the draft covering the shipment was not available and he would ask for an order allowing him to take delivery of the carload of produce. Then he would sell the produce and pay the railroad charges.

The indictments charge that produce which should have been left with the railroads as collateral for credit was shipped out of Chicago and thus taken out of control of the roads.

Maximum punishment for violation of the Elkins act is a $20,000 fine or two years in prison or both.

All three of the produce companies named operated from offices in the Produce Exchange building, 1425 South Racine avenue. Two have gone out of business and the third, the Visse company, still has offices there, according to the district attorney's office.

TRADE RESTRAINT TACTICS CHARGED TO SUPPLY GROUP

A complaint charging the Specialty Accounting Supply Manufacturers' association, 208 South La Salle street, and its 29 member companies with combining to restrain and eliminate competition has been filed by the Federal Trade commission in Washington, D. C., the commission announced yesterday.

Oscar L. Moore, secretary of the association since it was established 25 years ago, said a reply constituting a general denial is being prepared by Silas H. Strawn, association counsel. The United Autograph Register company, 5000 South California avenue, is listed among the defendants.

The commission charged the group fixed prices and sales conditions; operated "bogus independents to destroy competition" and gave special inducements to customers of competing manufacturers.

Moore is the only individual named.

Britain, with American Help, Seen Gaining Air Supremacy

New York, July 16 (AP).—The aircraft year book for 1941, published today by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, said that, from all accounts, combined British and American plane production "is superior to Germany's in those highly important categories such as fast pursuits, long range and medium bombers, and patrol flying boats."

The publication, a reference book and directory of American aviation, predicted that from now until the end of the European war, air power will play a much more decisive part, and that British raids on German supplies will grow in ratio with the number of planes supplied from America.

Britain Gaining Air Power.

"The next few months should witness a great reversal in air supremacy in this war," the book said. "Heretofore the Germans have had the tremendous advantage of numbers. Their vast productive facilities have enabled them to keep on active duty many times the number that Britain has had available at one time.

"Now, however, conditions appear to be changing. American dive bombers and upward of a score of newly designed combat aircraft soon will be leaving the factories in large numbers. This tremendous production from the United States, added to the greatly increased production in England, may have a decisive influence on the trend of the war in coming months."

The book said United States warplane production rose from 2,141 in 1939 to 5,800 in 1940, and since January of this year had been at a rate well over 1,000 a month.

Orders at the beginning of the year were set at 37,000 military planes, 21,000 of them for American air forces and 16,000 for Britain, with final delivery dates about the middle of 1942.

"It was a large order, but it was only half of what was to come," the authors commented. "Production will increase. This year alone, our estimates show, 18,000 planes will be turned out, and next year, under present programs, 30,000."

WAGE INCREASES ADD 9 MILLIONS A YEAR TO 2 AIRCRAFT PAY ROLLS

Fourteen thousand employés of the Curtiss-Wright corporation at Buffalo, N. Y., will receive raises of $5,500,000 annually under terms of an award made by an arbitration board. The issue was submitted to arbitration after a strike threat in May.

Twenty-five thousand employés of the United Aircraft corporation at East Hartford, Conn., were given wage increases adding about $4,200,000 to the annual pay roll.

ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC TEA CO. ADOPTS 5 DAY WEEK THRUOUT NATION

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company—the nation's largest grocery chain—has adopted the five day work week for retail store employés as a national policy, John A. Hartford, president announced yesterday. About 2,000 store personnel in the Chicago district will be affected.

John A. Hartford.

The five day, 48 hour week, which he said was the first in the history of the retail food business, was introduced on an experimental basis in a few eastern stores two months ago, Hartford said. It will be extended to the entire A. & P. organization as fast as possible. Exceptions may be made in areas where state and local labor regulations and local agreements prevent its adoption.

Arthur G. Hoadley, president of the company's middle western division, said that a shorter week will be in effect in hundreds of communities in the area before Labor day. Wages will not be affected, he said.

CEA ASKS BOOST IN MARGINS ON STAPLE TRADING

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—The Commodity Exchange administration, in a move said to be aimed at undue speculative activity, has asked commodity futures' markets to impose more rigid trading requirements on some farm products.

In a communication to presidents of 18 markets under his supervision, J. M. Mehl, chief of the CEA, suggested that uniform cash margins of at least 15 per cent be required on all speculative trade in agricultural commodity futures.

The effect of Mehl's proposal, it was said, would be to raise margin requirements on many such commodities as cotton, lard, butter, and eggs from 50 to 300 per cent. Other commodities, principally in the grain group, would be affected to a lesser extent.

Broad Scale Price Fixing Laws Studied

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—Congressional leaders disclosed today that they were working on sweeping price-fixing legislation and that President Roosevelt would make public the details probably next week.

Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] and Representative John W. McCormack [D., Mass.], majority leaders, made the announcement after a conference with Vice President Wallace, Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, and Speaker Sam Rayburn.

[That such legislation was in prospect was revealed by President Roosevelt Tuesday.]

Barkley and McCormack said that all forms of price stabilization, including wages, salaries, and rents were discussed. They said identical bills would be introduced in the senate and house. The legislation, they reported, will embrace "overall powers" and not deal with specific commodities or articles.

The department of labor reported that prices of 18 staple foods in 18 cities rose 1.7 per cent during the last half of June. Eggs went up an average of 2.7 cents a dozen; butter, 1.3 cents a pound; pork chops, 1 cent a pound; canned tomatoes, 2.3 per cent, and lard, 4.6 per cent. The only one of the 18 foods to show a substantial drop was cabbage, the price falling 7.3 per cent.

RESTRICT CREDIT SALES, AID OF OPACS DEMANDS

The government should not allow people to buy all they want to, even tho they have more money, Dr. Rolf Nugent, consultant of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, told members of the National Retail Furniture association yesterday in the American Furniture Mart.

"I would recommend that consumer credit be held to the 1940 level," Nugent said. "We should prepare for the post-war period and not allow the public to buy all it wants to, even tho the employment and wages have been greatly stimulated."

GRAIN STORAGE ROOM DWINDLES RAPIDLY IN CITY

Officials to Discuss Embargo Today.

W. H. McDonald of Rosenbaum Brothers reported last night that space for only 1½ million bushels of government loan wheat remains available for storage purposes in Chicago. This indicated a disappearance of space for 2½ million bushels since Tuesday, and hinted some restriction on movement of grain to this market may be necessary before the week-end.

The government appointed grain storage committee, of which McDonald is a member, will meet with representatives of the trade, the elevators, the railroads, and the Board of Trade at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to decide whether it is necessary to limit or embargo shipments of wheat to Chicago. Such action has already been taken at Hutchinson and Salina, Kas., and St. Louis, Kansas City, and St. Joseph, Mo.

Space Filled by Old Grain.

With the nation's elevators well filled with grain from crops of other years, it has been known for some time there would be a shortage of storage space for this year's crops.

The government has offered the farmer attractive loans on his grain with the result, dealers say, that stocks have been piling up in warehouses and elevators all over the country. The Commodity Credit corporation will lend $1.15 on wheat delivered and stored in Chicago this year. If the farmer is unable to sell it on the open market at this price or better later, the government will take it over and hold it in an attempt to get back the amount it loaned plus carrying charges.

The department of agriculture recently appointed special committees to report on grain movement and make weekly surveys of storage facilities. W. C. Engel, vice president of the Standard Milling company, is chairman in this area.

Grain Cars Rolling.

As approximately 1,800 cars of wheat rolled into Chicago the first three days of this week and it was found that of the city's storage capacity of 70 million bushels only four million was available for loan wheat, rumors circulated that drastic action would be necessary. Operators of many smaller elevators have announced that they would not accept grain for storage under loans unless the government increased its storage rates.

The government storage committee met for almost two hours yesterday in the offices of the Commodity Credit corporation. McDonald said later that no definite action could be expected until today's meeting.

Altho there were approximately 1,000 cars of grain on track waiting to be unloaded last night, the Association of American Railroads reported there was no accumulation of cars. Railroad officials warned, however, that they would stop accepting shipments the moment they found no more storage space was available.

PROFIT CASHING STEMS ADVANCE IN STOCK PRICES

New York, July 16 (AP).—The July rise in the stock market ran into a flurry of profit selling today and prices on average recorded their first dip since the start of the month.

For a good part of the session the list gave signs of attaining new high ground. Before the late reversal such groups as rails, steels, mail orders, rubbers, and specialties had moved up fractions to a point or more. Losses of like proportions were fairly general at the finish.

Share Turnover Dips.

Many buyers on the recent rise were disposed to cash in their gains on the theory that a reaction was probable following the advance to the best levels since January.

Wall street seemed less worried over the daily difference of opinion between Berlin and Moscow as to which side was gaining in the battle of Russia but the far eastern situation was more disturbing with news of the fall of the Japanese cabinet.

Washington reports indicating the administration would press for adoption of the treasury's excess profits tax program tended to nullify optimism generated by increased business profits so far reported for the June quarter.

CHICAGO LIST STEADY.

Prices on the Chicago Stock Exchange were steady yesterday with transfers of 17,000 shares. Of the 91 issues traded, 26 advanced, 26 declined and 38 closed unchanged. American Telephone and Telegraph company rights were offered for the first time with sales of 3,050.

Volume leaders were Raytheon Manufacturing common, which closed at 3¾, down. ¼; Standard Oil of Indiana, unchanged at 32¼; and Brown Fence and Wire, unchanged at 2. In each instance transfers totaled 700 shares. Marshall Field & Co., which closed at 16¼ in New York, was up ¼ to 16¼ at the close of the Chicago market a half hour later.

PULLMAN VOTES 75C EXTRA, PLUS 25C QUARTERLY

Directors of Pullman, Inc., a holding company, voted a regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the capital stock yesterday, plus an extra of 75 cents. This brings declarations so far this year to $1.50 a share, equal to the total amount paid during 1940.

CROP CONDITIONS CONTINUE GOOD IN MOST STATES

Harvesting of Small Grains Speeded.

Weather conditions were generally favorable for both field work and the growth of crops during the last week, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Harvesting and haying were interrupted by showers in some southern and central sections. Temperatures were near normal and soil moisture is adequate in most areas.

Corn was reported maturing in Texas and tasseling has extended almost to the Canadian border. Progress and condition of the crop is good to excellent in most of the main producing area.

Conditions by States.

ILLINOIS—Progress of corn was good to excellent, with a larger part of the acreage 6 to 7 feet high. Combining of wheat continues in central and northern areas. Oats range from fair to good and soy beans mostly good.

INDIANA—Yield and quality of winter wheat continue good. Considerable corn is in silk in the south and tasseling in the north.

WISCONSIN—Crops are spotty and suffering from lack of rain in the south and east. Corn is mostly good but making slow growth.

TRADING IN GRAIN LIGHT; STORAGE ISSUES STUDIED

Trading in grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade was relatively light yesterday as operators awaited further developments in regard to storage space shortages at many terminal and subterminal markets.

Wheat futures had a range of about 1 cent a bushel, and held up well in the early trading on buying attributed to mills and spreading operations between the different deliveries. The market weakened later and closed at losses of ½ to ¾ cent, with September at $1.04⅞ a bushel. The downturn in cotton shortly before the grain markets closed had considerable influence on sentiment.

Corn Up; Soy Beans Dip.

Price changes in corn, oats, and rye were confined to small fractions of a cent a bushel, corn gaining ⅛ cent. Soy beans were unsettled within a range of about 2½ cents, closing off 1½ to 2½ cents in sympathy with competing oils and fats.

The main topic of conversation on the exchange floor was the possible effect on the market of proposed embargoes on shipments of grain from the country.

Grain Receipts Large.

With harvesting of winter and spring wheat, oats, rye, and barley under way at the same time and the after harvest movement of winter wheat now at hand, it is believed that producers will be forced to store far larger quantities than usual on farms, due to inability to secure storage room at terminal markets.

More than 500 cars of grain, or about 800,000 bushels, were received here yesterday and in all over 5 million bushels of various grains were to arrive at terminal and subterminal markets.

LIVE HOGS FORGE AHEAD 15C MORE TO TOP OF $11.80

Top hogs duplicated Tuesday's 15 cent rise yesterday with another advance to a new 45 months' peak of $11.80 a hundred pounds. The average was up 10 cents, at $11.10, or $2.10 above the announced goal of the government's pork buying program.

Despite this fact, the government now is purchasing a much larger proportion of current production than it did when hog costs were below $10. Lighter receipts and another 50 cent rise in some cuts of fresh pork aided yesterday's market.

Despite large cattle receipts, most steers and yearlings sold strong to slightly higher. Advances of 10 to 15 cents were registered by most lands, with some 25 cents higher.

U. S. 'BUYS' TOBACCO, CORN AND COTTON TO LEASE-LEND BRITISH

Washington, D. C., July 16 (AP).—The department of agriculture disclosed today the purchase from government crop loan stocks of 75,000 bales of cotton, 30 million pounds of tobacco, and 2,544,160 bushels of corn to be made available, authoritative sources said, to Great Britain.

This is the first of these farm commodities to be acquired under provisions of the lease-lend act. At current market values the commodities should be worth roughly $13,000,000.

The announcement came a few days after other government sources had stated that the British, supplied with ships made available by the United States, desired to secure American cotton and tobacco to supplement declining stocks. These sources said the British hoped to take up to 600,000 bales of cotton during the coming season.

McKesson & Robbins, Inc., drug manufacturers, announced yesterday net sales of $84,546,587 during the six months ended June 30, an increase of 12.2 per cent over the $75,332,103 in the first half of 1940.
